District AFL Agent Killed In Auto Crash

IAM Representative Becomes 4th Traffic Fatality This Year

A Richland County man was killed on his 41st birthday in a one-car accident early this morning on Route 30-S in the eastern part of Marion County.

He was Frank R. Brown of near Mansfield, Marion County's fourth traffic fatality this year.

Brown, who was senior business representative of District 59 of the International Association of Machinists, AFL, was returning to his home after attending a union meeting in Marysville.

Brown had taken over the top business post in the district, which has its headquarters in Marion, on Jan. 1 when Ra. W. Beverly of 344 S. Main St. retired from the job. He had been Beverly's assistant for a number of years.

Car Leaves Road

The accident occurred at 1:50 a.m. about one and one-half miles from the Morrow County line.

According to th Marion post of the state highway patrol, Brown was heading east when his car left the road on the left side where it tore up some guard rail, turned over on the highway and went off the road on the right side where it tore up more guard rail. He was alone in the car.

Brown was killed instantly with death being attributed to a fractured skull and multiple fractures of the body.

Moderate Damage to Car

The car, a 1951 Ford coach, was moderately damaged on the left rear corner, top, both sides and front end.

The body was taken to the Timson Allen Funeral Home in Caledonia and was expected to be removed to the Finefrock Funeral Home in Mansfield sometime today.

Truck Driver Hurt

A Crestline truck driver, Charles C. Lowe, 33, received only minor injuries when the cab of his tractor-trailer outfit was demolished in a Marion County accident at 11 p.m. Monday.

The accident occurred on Route 30-S about one-half mile north of the Morrow County line, near the scene of this morning's fatality.

Lowe was heading east and failed to make a curve, going off the highway on the right side, recrossing the road and going off on the left side where he turned over in a ditch, the patrol reported.

Lowe was taken by a passing motorist to Galion City Hospital where he was treated for lacerations of the forehead and nose.

Cars driven by Joseph A. Slanser, 81, of 788 E. Church St. and Paul M. Lightfoot, 37, of near La Rue were involved in an accident at 7:30 a.m. today on Route 30-S at the intersection with Parkview Rd. just east of Marion.

Slanser was turning off of Parkview onto 30-S when he collided with Lightfoot who was passing a truck, the patrol said.

There were no injuries and both cars received only minor damage.

Lightfoot was cited to appear in Municipal Court Saturday to answer a charge of passing at an intersection.

2 Hit-Skip Accidents

A car reported stolen was involved in one of two minor traffic accidents, bath hit-skips, reported today by city police.

The mishap involving the stolen car occurred at the C & O Railroad crossing on W. Center St. at 7:38 p.m. Monday. Aloysius H. Arnold, 67, of 144 Waterloo St. said his car was struck from the rear by the other car later identified as owned by Mrs. Frieda Mulvain of 275½ Chestnut St.

Immediately after the impact, the driver of the stolen car jumped out of it and ran west.

Charter Group Acts

Two-Year Council Terms Gain Favor

Marion city charter commission decided Monday night to retain the present two-year term for city council members, reversing an earlier decision that tentatively called for a four-year term.

The commission also gave tentative approval to a motion merging the present elective offices of city auditor and treasurer into a department of finance headed by men appointed by council.

Civil Service Retained

In other major actions, the commission voted to retain the present civil service and civic planning set ups.

In reversing its stand on the length-of-term question, commission members felt that the majority of the electorate wants to keep a more direct control on its representatives through the use of the two-year term.

Early last December when the group tentatively approved the four-year term the feeling was that the longer term would bring about savings by not requiring primary and regular elections every other year and that council members could do a better job when not burdened with campaigning every two years.

The reversal was made after relatively little debate Monday night, but the issue had highlighted discussions at the three previous meetings. Discussions, study and informal surveys led the commission to switch back to the two-year term, a stand which is still subject to change.

Offices Discussed

Most of Monday night's meeting was devoted to the discussion of the offices of city auditor and treasurer.

The commissioners tentatively decided to unite the two offices into a single department of finance, headed by a director of finance who would function as city auditor with an assistant director designated as city treasurer. Both men would be appointed by council.

The decisions were forwarded to the drafting committee, headed by Henry A. Mickley, which will draw up a charter section to cover the department.

Agree on Office

The commission decided with little argument that the two offices should be merged. Increased economy and efficiency were two of the points in favor of the merger.

There was, however, a lengthy discussion before the group decided in favor of having a council-appointed instead of an elected director of finance.

Those in favor of election pointed out that it would make the director independent of council, putting him in a "watchdog" position.

Commissioners favoring the appointed director pointed out that under such a set up training and experience requirements could be

Lausche Files Petitions For Democratic Primary

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. Frank J. Lausche today filed as a fifth-term candidate for nomination in the Democratic primary election next May.

Ray White, the governor's secretary, submitted petitions to the secretary of state bearing 4,750 signatures from all 88 counties.

White presented the petitions in the absence of Lausche who was in Cleveland for a ceremony during the visit of the president of Turkey, Celal Bayar.

Could Speed Jap Defense Action

Senator Calls for Troop Withdrawal Target Date

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-NJ) proposed today that the United States set a target date for withdrawal of American troops from Japan.

Smith, who heads a Senate Foreign Relations subcommittee on Far Eastern affairs, said in a report on a trip to Asia last fall that it may be four or five years before all of the United States troops in Japan can be brought home.

"Even so," he said, "I believe there might be some advantage in setting a target date now for that eventuality. Such a target date might accelerate (defensive) action by Japan."

The New Jersey senator said that unless some new markets are opened to the Japanese "we may be faced with an unending dependence of Japan on United States aid or an expansion of Japan's trade with Communist China."

"Both of these are clearly repugnant to our own interest," he declared.

As one who has advocated military aid for the Chinese Nationalist government on Formosa, Smith said he believes Formosa may become "a powerful psychological base for a counteroffensive of Chinese democracy."

He said Chiang Kai-shek's forces could not launch any assault on China "without naval, air and logistic support from outside sources," adding.

"While they are growing in strength I think it would be unrealistic for even the most ardent supporters of the Chiang government to expect any all-out attack upon the mainland, at least in the near future."

Smith said he doesn't believe the Communists will start the fighting in Korea again or that President Syngman Rhee of South Korea will engage in any overt act to upset the truce.

Fire Chief Wilson M. McLaughlin said he could not determine the cause of the fire.

Legal Tangle Bogs Bricker Treaty Curb

Ike, Senator Remain At Odds; Knowland Seeking New Version

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Grim Republican leaders faced the possibility today that their efforts to compromise the Bricker constitutional amendment on treaty powers might collapse in a legal welter of words.

Senators Knowland of California, Ferguson of Michigan and Millikin of Colorado planned to continue the search for language that would be acceptable to President Eisenhower and Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio).

Bricker's proposal would limit the scope of treaties and provide for congressional regulation of other international agreements.

Still Hopeful

Knowland, the Senate GOP leader, insisted despite weeks of unsuccessful efforts that he was still hopeful an acceptable compromise would be found. He said, "discussions will continue."

But the prospects were not regarded as good by either Bricker or any of the Democrats who sat in on a secret two-hour conference yesterday. There was no indication that Knowland, Ferguson and Millikin got any new concessions from Eisenhower at a hurried White House conference—the second of the day—which followed the meeting with the Democrats.

Bricker's proposed amendment has been technically before the Senate for more than a week, but the debate on it has been mostly in generalities. Pending efforts to arrive at a compromise, the GOP leadership has withheld formal introduction of any substitute.

Won't Retreat

As the situation stood today Bricker appeared unwilling to retreat from language which Knowland said earlier had Eisenhower's "substantial" agreement, but about which questions were understood to have been raised by the President's advisers.

This controversy centered on a section of the compromise which says that "an international agreement other than a treaty shall become effective as internal law in the United States only by an act of Congress."

Sen. George (D-Ga), who wrote this provision, said it meant that only Congress—and not the states—could decide whether a international agreement should override domestic laws. Eisenhower's advisers were reported to believe that in its present wording the section would narrow presidential powers.

No Attempt To Change

Bricker said that in his conference with the Republicans and Democratic leaders there had been no attempt made to change this wording.

"It's a matter of interpretation," he said.

The evidence was that Bricker had made it plain he would not join in any proposal to bypass this clause even temporarily.

Eisenhower's advisers were said to have suggested that the Senate act on the amendment, without the clause, and give them time to study it further before submitting either it or substitute language to the House.

George said he wouldn't agree to any such procedure. His stand seemed likely to influence a number of other Democratic senators.

A new proposal was offered, meanwhile, by Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn) and 11 of his colleagues, all of them Democrats except Sen. Morse (Ind-Ore).

Will Point Out Mistakes

Police Use Loudspeaker To Direct Marion Traffic

The desire of most people to avoid public embarrassment is being used to advantage by Marion police in an effort to cut down illegal double parking and jaywalking.

Police Chief Tom Coon said today that an amplifier system and loudspeaker has been installed in one of the police cruisers to warn pedestrians to stay on the curb, not to walk against the traffic light and not to jay walk, and to warn drivers against double parking and other such violations.

BECAUSE THE WARNING given out by the policeman through the loudspeaker can be heard for more than a block the effect is to cause the offender to jump back to the curb or drive quickly away, Coon said. Also because there is the element of public embarrassment involved, police hope the offender will remember and not commit the same offense again.

The loudspeaker was installed as a part of the permanent equipment on the department's traffic enforcement cruiser, Coon added, and will be used any time it is warranted.

HE POINTED OUT that the equipment would be useful in other circumstances such as directing crowds at large public meetings, controling spectators at large fires, and on other occasions where police work requires a loud voice.

This same cruiser has also been equipped so the department's radar speed meter may be attached and this equipment was to be tested today, Coon said. He has warned that as soon as the installation of the speedmeter is completed it will be used to enforce speed laws on city streets.

One-Man Rule in Russian Bloc Major Peace Threat, Dulles Tells Big 4 Session

CONFERENCE MOVES TO SOVIET SECTOR. Here is a general view of the conference room at the Russian Embassy as the Big Four talks switched to the Soviet sector of Berlin. Surrounded by members of their delegations are U.S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles (1); French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault (2); Russia's V. M. Molotov (3), and Anthony Eden (4), British foreign secretary.

Rips Molotov Claim West Risking War

U.S. Secretary Stings Minister With Own Words Uttered in 1939

BERLIN (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles told the Big Four foreign ministers conference today the Soviet bloc and its one-man rule is the real danger to world peace, not the Western defensive alliance.

This was the American statesman's answer to Soviet Minister Molotov's charges that the Western powers are promoting war in trying to unify Germany within the family of European nations.

Hurls Own Charges Back

In stinging language, Dulles hurled Molotov's own words—spoken after the 1939 Nazi-Communist partition of Poland—back at him. At that time, with Moscow and Berlin in a booty-hungry partnership, Molotov called it "not only senseless but criminal" for the Western nations to war against Hitler.

Molotov, in challenging the Western world's motives about peace now, is just as wrong today as he was then Dulles asserted.

The secretary led the Western broadside against the Russian as a retort to Molotov's unyielding position yesterday. Molotov had stressed that Russia would settle only for a neutral Germany unable to have any link with the West and saddled with Communist influence.

Dulles Statement

Said Dulles:

"Perhaps Mr. Molotov would admit that he then (in 1939) made a mistake—we all make mistakes. That fact should lead us not to be so confident of our judgment that we throw across the table accusations of criminal intent."

Dulles said Molotov had "accused us yesterday of being the enemies of peace."

"The greatest danger to world peace," Dulles said, "lies in the fact that in some cases a vast military establishment can be made to attack by the decision of a single nation, sometimes by the decision of a single man. That is a situation that is understandably terrifying."

Leaves No Doubt

He left no doubt that he was talking about the monolithic Soviet regime.

Dulles hit into the Russian's demands for East German Communist participation in any all-Ger-

Vietminh Force Opens Attack In Indochina

Five Sectors Blasted; Communists Believed Seeking Negotiations

HANOI, Indochina (AP)—Vietminh attacks in five separate sectors shaped up today as parts of a general offensive apparently aimed at overrunning enough territory to give the Communist-led rebels a powerful talking point for ending the Indochina war by negotiation.

A new invasion of Laos threatened Luang Prabang, the royal Laotian capital. Ho Chi Minh threw virtually all his eight regular divisions—trained and equipped by Red China—into the winter campaign.

The war picture looked like this:

1. Vietminh Division No. 308, detached from the siege of Dien Bien Phu, crossed the border from northwest Viet Nam into northern Laos, overran French-garrisoned Muong Khoua after a 30-mile advance and headed on toward Luang Prabang, 85 miles to the south.

2. In central Laos, a war theater for six weeks, other rebel

Company Required To Give Monthly Finance Report

Proposed legislation revoking the Marion Transit Co. franchise was dropped but the company was ordered to provide a monthly financial statement to City Council at a meeting Monday night at City Hall.

These decisions brought to an end discussions of the bus company problems which began Jan. 23 and resulted in three adjourned meetings of council.

PURPOSE of the meeting Monday night was to obtain assurance from company officials that bus service, restored Monday morning after 10 days of idleness, would continue with no further interruptions.

Carter Patton attorney for Local 222, Transit Workers of America, was first called on by Floyd Kreisel, company president, to make a statement concerning an agreement reached by the company and the bus drivers last Friday, to restore service yesterday morning.

Patton repeated a previous announcement that the agreement came Friday afternoon following a meeting of the driver's Thursday in which they voted to return to work.

He said he had no other information other than to his knowledge the company had obtained no financial assistance and that the drivers merely agreed to return to work on the promise they would be paid.

—:—

THE DRIVERS QUIT Jan. 22 after banks refused to cash their pay checks.

Robert G. Haldeman, council utilities committee chairman asked if any of those checks had been made good by the company. Kreisel and Wilbur Poorman, company manager, replied "most of them have been."

Haldeman then asked the status of the company's bank account. Kreisel answered that the bank balance will be sufficient to cover all outstanding pay due drivers including checks to be issued there this Friday for earnings of two weeks ago.

ASKED BY councilman Harold Fralich about the possibility of his obtaining loans from financial institutions in Columbus, Kreisel answered, "I have not had time to check on that."

Haldeman asked if creditors would "go along with the bus company," in its plans to continue operations. Kreisel said he believed most of the big creditors would. The company previously was reported some $17,000 in debt.

In answer to another question by Haldeman, Kreisel said three employes who quit will not be replaced. This will decrease total employes and help the company operate near a balance, Kreisel said.

This brought on a question on

U.S. May Agree To Resumption Of Korea Talk

State Department Eyes Reply to Red Request; Agreement Is Expected

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States may call on the Communists in Korea today to let bygones be bygones and get on with preliminary peace talks, stalled now for nearly two months.

Top-level State Department officials were wrestling with the problem of how to word a reply to the Communist demand that Special Ambassador Arthur H. Dean return to Panmunjom and resume conversations intended to pave the way for a full-dress Korean peace conference.

Reply Due Shortly

A department spokesman told newsmen a reply will go out "very shortly."

Dean walked out of the preliminary talks at Panmunjom Dec. 12, saying he had had enough of Red insults. He objected most strenuously to a Red charge that the United States had connived with South Korea to release 27,000 anti-Communist war prisoners before the truce began last Summer.

He said at the time he would not return until the Communists had retracted their charge of perfidy. He came back to the United States.

Ask Dean To Name Date

So far, the Communists have given no indication of readiness to retract. Just last week, they wrote Dean demanding the resumption of talks but saying nothing about the issue that prompted him to break off those talks.

They suggested yesterday for the resumption but invited Dean to name his own preferred date.

Groundhog Greeted By Sunlight; Cold Weather To Remain

Don't put those winter clothes away yet!

With the sun out at intervals today, it is probable the groundhog saw his shadow today, Groundhog Day.

According to the legend, if the groundhog emerges from his hole, sees his shadow and ducks back, there will be six more weeks of winter. But, no matter whether he did or did not see it, there still will probably be more winter weather, snow and cold, to come before spring clothes can be brought forth.

The weather bureau has made no forecast on winter weather to come. Sunny and mild was the prediction for today, with fair weather tonight, temperatures reaching a low of 26 to 34, and fair with little change in temperature for Wednesday.

Worst Winter In Seven Years Chills Europe

LONDON (AP)—The worst winter in seven years turned Europe into one vast icebox from the Urals to the Mediterranean today, spread misery among the homeless in the big cities, and covered the play resorts of North Africa with snow.

Trains were stalled. Rivers turned into giant ice ponds. Overworked electric lines broke down. Hundreds of villages were cut off.

The weatherman said even lower temperatures were on the way.

Already, more than 45 people have died.

In North Africa, many parts of Morocco had their first snowfall in 35 years. Near Meknes, three feet of snow was reported and the hills around Algiers were ice-capped.

London had its coldest night in seven years with the temperature tumbling to 23 degrees for 12 hours running.

Nearly 100 villages were cut off by snowdrifts in the Italian Highlands. A howling windstorm with gusts of hurricane force lashed at Trieste, injuring at least seven people.

Public "warming rooms" were opened in Frankfurt, Germany, and Paris, and shivering homeless jammed the Paris subway stations to escape the freezing winds.

German officials predicted the Rhine River would be frozen solid from the North Sea to Switzerland by the end of the week if there is no let-up. At Lorelei it was already frozen for more than three miles.

Ayres Submits Suggestion on Salary Raises

$2,500 Boost, Bigger Expense Account for Legislators Proposed

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Ayres (R-Ohio) suggested today congressmen could settle their salary question with a $2,500 pay raise and a bigger expense account.

Congressmen now receive salaries of $12,500 a year, plus $2,500 for expenses.

A commission on judicial and congressional salaries recommended paying congressmen annual salaries of $27,500, along with six government-paid trips a year between Washington and their districts instead of one.

"My idea," Ayres told a reporter, "would be to raise the salary from $12,500 to $15,000, then allow expense accounts with ceilings of $10,000.

"That way you would accomplish two things: Give a raise and compensate for expenses congressmen wouldn't have in a normal job."

The general public, said Ayres, doesn't realize the cost involved in maintaining two separate residences, one in Washington and one back home, and other expenses—particularly traveling to and from Washington.

Ayres suggested any new law on the subject permit a congressman to draw on an expense account just the way a salesman does with a private firm. The ceiling would be $10,000.

"But in many cases, this wouldn't be more than $3,000," Ayres, "Also, you would have him turn in receipts for, say, 75 per cent of his expenses."

In his own case, Ayres said while all of his normal expenses of keeping his wife and three children back home continue, he has expenses like these when he is in Washington:

A room with private bath—"Anything at all decent costs $100 a month."

Food bills — "Average $100 a month. Don't forget you have to eat out some time, and frequently buy a meal for a constituent who is visiting you."

Incidentals — "Average $100 a month. That covers things like cab fares, tips, laundry, pressing. Congressmen are called upon, too, to donate to so many causes, an organization sees that he makes $15,000 a year, and naturally thinks that sounds like big dough."

Travel to and from the district to Washington—"Averages $2,500 a year. My train fare is $60 round trip. The first session I was here I made 51 trips to my district.

"To do your job right, you have to go back to your district and report to your constituents. Now, you have only one trip paid for."

Bricker

They proposed to drop the whole idea of a constitutional amendment, and instead have Congress pass a bill which would affirm that the Constitution is superior to all treaties and executive agreements. Bricker's principal contention is that there is danger treaties may whittle away some of Americans' constitutional guarantees.

Kefauver's substitute, which would require signature by the President, had no support from Republican leaders, who have contended that an amendment of some kind will pass.

Third Candidate Enters Race for Commissioner

A third man seeking the county commissioner post which will be available in January of 1955 filed his nominating petition Monday with the Board of Elections.

He is Kenneth J. Armbruster of near Marion, who is making his first bid for public office. A Democrat, he is employed as a foreman at the Marion Power Shovel Co.

Others filing yesterday were Edward J. Ruzzo of 363 Uhler Ave., Republican, seeking his second full term as probate judge, and Kenneth A. Robinson of 462 King Ave., Republican seeking his fifth term as Marion County representative to the Ohio General Assembly.

In addition, petitions of candidacy for county central committee posts were filed by four Republicans and three Democrats.

Armbruster, who lives five miles north of Marion on Route 4, is married to the former Miss Edna Wood. They have three children, Mrs. John Price of Blaine Ave., Robert in the U. S. Navy, and Joseph at home.

His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Armbruster of 128 Sharpless Ct.

He has been employed at the Marion Power Shovel Co. for 15 years, and is a member of the Foremen's Club and the Knights of Columbus.

Others seeking the county commissioner post are Harley T. Johnston, a Republican, who lives near Prospect, and Calvin C. Retterer, a Democrat, who lives in Waldo.

Johnston is a farmer and grocer, and is seeking his first public office, while Retterer, a former farmer and now owner of a coal and supply company, was a Democratic nominee for commissioner two years ago but failed to win election.

Luther Mitchell, Republican incumbent for the post, has said that he will seek the nomination again, but has not yet filed his nominating petition.

Judge Ruzzo was appointed probate judge by former Governor Thomas Herbert in August of 1947 following the death of Probate Judge Oscar Gast. In 1948 he ran unopposed for the office and was elected to a full six-year term.

Robinson, Marion attorney and present representative from the county, announced his candidacy two weeks ago. At that time, Virgil L. Anderson, Marion County farmer and educator, also announced that he would seek that seat. Robinson is Republican and Anderson is a Democrat.

Republicans filing for central committee posts were Carl Rorick of 217½ N. Main St., for precinct 2-A; J. D. Williamson of 239 Bellefontaine Ave., for Precinct 4-C; Walter A. Snyder of 432 Olney Ave., for Precinct 4-D; and Myrtle E. Roby of 148 N. Seffner Ave., for Precinct 1-B.

Democrats filing were Paul E. Almendinger of near Prospect, for Pleasant Township South; Rolhe C. Chard of near Marion, for Green Camp Township; and Roscoe Strine of Waldo, for Waldo Precinct.

Deadline on Petitions Is Wednesday Afternoon

Persons wishing to file petitions of candidacy for the May primary election are being reminded by Board of Elections officials that 4 p.m. Wednesday is the deadline.

In previous years a 6:30 p.m. deadline was observed, but a new state law becoming effective this year makes the 4 p.m. deadline mandatory.

In Monday's Star, it was incorrectly reported that the deadline was 4:30 p.m.

man deal and declared the Soviet zone Red regime has been imposed on 18 million helpless people. What more proof does one need, he said, that the fact that a million East Germans have fled West since the last so-called East zone "elections" in 1950.

"In the Eastern area there is an armed force of 250,000 to keep order," he continued. "That is one guard for 80 persons. In West Germany there is one policeman for 330 persons. Does this shocking discrepancy prove that the East Germans freely accept the order that their rulers impose?"

'Cannot Accept'

The essence of Soviet proposals for Germany is that the Big Four should accept the East German regime as a principal instrument for solving the German problem, Dulles said, but "we cannot accept that position."

He urged Molotov to "agree to create quickly by free, all-German elections a German government which can genuinely speak for all of Germany."

Dulles then recalled that Molotov had charged that the United States Congress had appropriated 100 million dollars for "subversive activities within the Soviet satellite countries."

Dulles said this had been rejected when Russia raised it in the United Nations and "I refute it again as being totally untrue."

Molotov had said yesterday Russia had made terrible sacrifices because of German aggression. Dulles retorted the United States "paid a very heavy price for two German aggressions" in the two world wars. He said there was a time when the Soviet Union "paid tribute" to the American contribution and then added:

Has Earned Right

"In the light of that history, the United States feels that it has earned the right to shrug off as foolish chatter the accusations that it now seeks to recreate the very force that has twice so cruelly hurt it."

The North Atlantic Treaty, Dulles said, was made in accordance with the provisions of the United Nations charter which bar the threat or use of force. And it provides for using force only if one of the member nations is attacked.

"I hope that Mr. Molotov does not imply that the Soviet Union intends to bring that tragedy to pass," Dulles said.

"If it does not, then it need not fear the treaty."

Eden and Bidault tried vainly yesterday, the conference's first day on the Russian side of Berlin, to make the Western plans for uniting Germany sound like sweet reason to the Russians.

Molotov's 21-page speech, almost an hour long, made clear three things:

1. Russia wants to get American troops out of Europe at the earliest possible date because they block Soviet domination of the continent.

2. Russia wants to smash the projected six-nation European Defense Community (EDC) because it paves the way for rearming all Germany, or part of it, in a close alliance with the West.

3. Russia wants a reunified Germany, virtually defenseless and ripe for Soviet domination, with Communists in key government posts.

The clashing ideas of the two sides were summarized in two brief exchanges.

Said Eden: "It is our purpose to associate Germany so closely with other peace-loving states that she will neither need nor be able to use her regained strength for aggressive purposes. It is our conviction that this can best be achieved through the European Defense Community."

Molotov Replies

Molotov replied: "The political meaning (of EDC) is that three powers—the United States of America, Great Britain and France—are trying together with official circles of present-day Western Germany to form a military bloc directed against a fourth power, the Soviet Union."

Out of the ruckus over Germany, the West still hoped to salvage something, perhaps an easier movement of trade between East and West Germany.

Western diplomats thought the conference also might push Asia toward peace, since they believe the Soviets would like to see an end to fighting there in order to let Russia turn even more of her production into the home market.

Could Harm China

For such peace, Molotov may try to exact more Western recognition of Communist China. Failure to get it possibly could do more to harm China's relations with Russia than relations with the West, some observers think.

Certainly Molotov did not expect the West to accept his demand that deputies of the Big Four ministers within 90 days draft a peace treaty for Germany which the half-Communist-half-Western provisional German government advocated by the Soviets would sign by next October at the latest.

A year after that signing, according to Molotov's proposed schedule, American and other occupation troops would pull out of Germany, leaving the Soviet bloc's richest neighbor with only enough troops and guns for "tasks of an internal character, local defense of frontiers and anti-aircraft defense," as the Soviet statement put it.

Other Proposals

As the Russians have demanded repeatedly, Molotov proposed that the peace treaty also:

1. Bar a united Germany from any coalition or military alliance directed against any of her World War II enemies. The Soviets put EDC and the North Atlantic alliance in that category.

2. Give finally to Poland and Russia the eastern German territories they occupied after the Potsdam agreement.

3. Cancel out all political and military agreements concluded by the present East and West German governments, an obvious thrust at the EDC treaty and West Germany's peace contract with the Western Allies.

Dulles' reply was not forthcoming last night. Instead he walked with his Western colleagues out of the smoke-filled conference room and into the cold, darkening streets of East Berlin saying, "I suggest we seek the refreshment of the night."

Area Man Gets State Position

Jenkins Made Chief Of Fire Prevention

Wayne C. Jenkins of Cardington, former assistant fire chief at the Marion Engineer Depot, has been named chief of the state fire prevention bureau.

Jenkins replaces Foss H. Gragg of Bainbridge, who has been assigned as a state fire inspector in Gallia, Jackson, Pike, Ross and Scioto Counties.

Announcement of the shuffle in the state fire marshal's office was made by Charles R. Scott, state fire marshal.

Jenkins will continue as rural fire prevention specialist, a post he has held since May of last year, when he resigned his post at the Marion Engineer Depot as assistant fire chief. He had been at the depot since May 26, 1948, serving as fire fighter, driver, captain and finally, assistant chief. The post as fire prevention specialist in rural areas, calls for a farm-to-farm canvass and inspection in setting up a rural safety program.

Jenkins was at one time employed at the Marion Power Shovel Co., was engaged in farming and served about a year in the Merchant Marine Corps during World War II. He was employed at the Engineer Depot the first time in 1942-43 as a captain on the fire department. From 1943 until last May, he had been serving with the Cardington volunteer fire department.

The Cardington man's farm home is located between Ashley and Cardington in Morrow County. He is married and has three children.

JAMES C. JENKINS, Second Ward, asked if the company could provide more frequent morning service on Silver St. He said he had complaints from "10 to 15 people" about it. Haldeman said he, too, had gotten complaints on this matter.

Poorman answered that the company would try to give service where and when and as often as it's needed.

Richard E. Lister, at-large, inquired as to whether the company's liability insurance was still in force and was told it was. He said he asked because he had heard the insurance had lapsed because of lack of premium payments.

Fralich said he was not satisfied with the bus company report, that he had expected more concrete information and evidence adequate financing had been obtained to insure continued service. "We do not know we won't be faced with this same situation again in two weeks or a month," he said.

HE ASKED if there was any further information as to the report made at council meeting last Wednesday night that two other groups were interested in starting bus companies in Marion.

Haldeman said he had heard nothing further although he had invited representatives of the two groups to discuss their proposals with the utilities committee or the entire council anytime they so desired.

Fralich turned again to Kreisel and asked if he could meet obligations if receipts during the next six months were approximately equal to those for the preceding six months. Kreisel said he could.

The motion directing the company to furnish the utilities committee with a financial profit and loss statement and balance sheet came from Haldeman. Purpose of this is so "we may keep watch and foresee future financial difficulties which may again disrupt bus service."

All councilmen excepting Fralich and Lister voted for the motion to take no action on the proposed revocation of franchise legislation.

Marion County Pastors Hear Dr. R. T. Gray

"The Doctor - Clergyman Relationship in Caring for the Sick" was the talk given by Dr. Robert T. Gray of Prospect and Marion at a meeting of the Marion County Ministerial Association Monday at the YMCA.

Co-operation in an organization known as Sharing Plan for providing both food and clothing for the needy in Europe was voted. It was announced that the Brethren service truck with which various churches here have been co-operating in gathering up of clothing for Korea was to call Monday afternoon at three churches as collection points for the donations. These centers were First EUB Church, First Church of the Brethren, and Epworth Methodist Church.

The members voted a "word of commendation" for the work of Alcoholics Anonymous in Marion. A resolution called for encouraging organizations of the community to recognize Wednesday night as church night to avoid setting of conflicting schedules. Consideration was given a tentative plan to ask co-operation of business places here in closing during the annual union three-hour Good Friday service.

Chairman of the committee planning the community's School of Religion for next fall, C. H. Indoe, was introduced and discussed with the ministers plans for the classes.

Speaker for the next meeting will be Capt. Mary Nisiewicz of the Salvation Army who will tell of her trip abroad.

Public Works Plan Sought by Labor Leaders

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—AFL leaders have urged President Eisenhower to trot out pump-priming plans immediately to soothe the nation's lagging economy.

President Eisenhower has said that he has a public works program already drafted to invoke when a depression threatens the country.

The AFL's Executive Council, meeting here to study Eisenhower policies and union problems, said last night unemployment has grown to the point where public works projects should be taken from the "shelf" and put into immediate effect.

"All the signs indicate we're going down hill," AFL President George Meany told newsmen. "All of the nation's considerable resources won't help us if we don't use them."

AFL Economists gave figures to claim that the 2,360,000 unemployed reported by the government's last census figure is a conservative estimate.

They said that without considering what should have been a normal increase in the work force, the number of jobs has declined from June to January by 3,350,000—or that one out of every 20 persons has lost his job.

Besides a quick start on building public works projects, the AFL council recommended that Congress boost the present 75-cent federal minimum wage to $1.25 an hour.

Other steps recommended: broadening unemployment compensation benefits, increasing federal housing aid to double present home production and extending tax relief to low-income earners.

The other hit-skip accident was reported to police at 3:50 p.m. Monday by Raymond Steinkamp of 547 N. Main St. He said an unidentified car had struck his car but could not say where or when the accident happened.

Scout Troop Plans Camping Activities

Committeemen of Boy Scout Troop 46 met Sunday afternoon to reorganize and prepare the application for the troop charter.

Roy Buckingham was named scoutmaster. Richard Thurman and Frank Sloat are assistants while Willard Ginder will be institutional representative. Committeemen are Robert Quick, chairman, Kenneth Rudy, secretary-treasurer, Aubrey Thompson and Harold Stafford, in charge of camping and property, and Dwight Wilcox, publicity chairman.

They will meet soon to plan a complete year's activities. A trip to one of Ohio's scenic parks will highlight the year's camping experiences. Outings to Camp Owens are slated Feb. 20 and April 3. The troop is now planning for Scout Week and Wali-Ga-Zu.

The local troop is sponsored by the Pathfinders class of Wesley Methodist Church.

Senators Cut Aid to Federal Farm Agency

WASHINGTON (AP)—Some farm state senators today voiced unhappiness over the method chosen by the Agriculture Department to rescue the Commodity Credit Corp. from its present financial squeeze.

The CCC, the agency which handles the money for farm price support programs, has reported to Congress it is just about broke because of a huge volume of farm products put under government loan in recent weeks.

President Eisenhower and Secretary of Agriculture Benson recommended two methods to meet this problem:

1. Raising the lending authority of CCC by 1¾ billion dollars—from 6¾ billion to 8½ billion, a record high.

2. Canceling $741,548,788 of CCC notes held by the Treasury. This is a device to reimburse the agency for its expenses, most of them incurred in supporting farm prices. The cancellation has the effect of increasing the CCC's available funds by the amount of the notes written off.

The administration chose to push the second measure first. It was rushed through the House last Wednesday and through the Senate Appropriations Committee Thursday.

But the Senate balked at passing the bill Friday. Then yesterday, in a surprise action, it cut the total in the measure by almost half a billion dollars, to $245,900,917, and sent it to conference with the House. Both actions were by voice vote.

It was stressed that an elected director of finance could not be a watchdog on council if he were unqualified to do an efficient job.

Under that section, council vacancies will be filled by council for the remainder of the unexpired term with a person of the same political party as the prior representative and from the same ward if the previous councilman was elected from a ward. In case of a recall, however, the vacancy will be filled in the manner provided in such a case.

In the event that the office of mayor or chairman pro tempore would become vacant, council will fill it with one of its own members. The chairman pro tempore would not become mayor automatically.

The commission also outlined the qualifications of the assistant city solicitor, deciding that he should be a resident of Marion and a member of the Ohio bar.

Epworth Church School Honors Harry L. Dowler

Special honor was paid Monday night by Epworth Methodist Church to Harry L. Dowler, Epworth Church School superintendent who recently concluded 12 years of service in that capacity. This was part of a recognition service held for the church school officers and teachers with a recognition dinner at 6:30 served in the Fellowship Hall. Guest speaker was Rev. Homer Vanderpool, pastor of Grace Methodist Church at Dayton.

Approximately 300 attended.

Active in community life in many ways, as a former mayor, attorney, public-minded citizen and interested church lay member, Mr. Dowler has always considered church matters of enough importance to delegate much of his time toward them, regardless of other calls made upon him, church spokesmen said. "He has been outstanding for faithful and regular attendance," it was stated.

—:—

DURING HIS TIME of superintendency, the Church School has been completely organized into departments with all groups using Methodist materials for the curriculum.

Mr. Dowler was presented a leather-bound copy of the new Revised Standard Version Bible by a young Church School pupil, Janet Porter, following a statement of appreciation by Rev. W.C. Eyster.

Music was by the Church School orchestra which includes L. M. Yinger who was recognized for his service of six years as assistant Church School superintendent. George Barnhart is orchestra director.

THE TEACHER recognized as longest in service in the Church School was John H. Clark who has been a class instructor 54 years. Others given special mention were C. H. Indoe who is chairman of the commission on Christian education, and Miss

Rev. Vanderpool spoke on "Get Your Ducks in Line." Pointing to the "upset feeling" of the whole world, he emphasized importance of feeling a "vital relationship" to God. He called for a "down to earth, everyday religion" and belief in God using each individual as a channel of service in the work of the Kingdom of God.

Additional Cash Approved for Light Controls

Appropriation of an additional $1,400 for purchase of a new master traffic light control for Marion was made last night at a meeting of the finance committee of City Council.

Don Quaintance, committee chairman, said other subjects discussed, included purchase of a new fire pumper truck and a new fire chief's car, what to do about city hall facilities, some sewer projects, and a new "whiteway" street lighting system in the business district. No action was taken on any of these. The committee will discuss them further at future meetings, he said.

Mayor Harold F. Robinson had asked for the traffic control. Council set aside $5,000 for it, but present estimates of the cost now are $6,400, Quaintance said.

Purpose of the master control would be to provide a system whereby all the traffic lights could be timed to provide for a smooth flow of traffic. It also will be of such design that this timing may be changed at any time to meet varying traffic loads on city streets.

One-Car Mishap Listed By Highway Patrolmen

An Erie, Pa., youth, Robert A. Patterson, 19, was involved in a minor one-car accident in Morrow County Monday, the Marion post of the state highway patrol reported this morning.

The accident occurred just north of Mt. Gilead on Route 42 at 3:30 a.m.

The patrol reported that Patterson was going north and went off the road on the right side, hitting a cinder barrel. The car was moderately damaged on the front end, and Patterson was uninjured.

A motorcade will carry the party to the lavish Greenbrier suite in the Terminal Tower. President Walter J. Touhy of the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway and a reception committee were to greet the visitors.

Later, at a press conference, Feller and Graham arranged to present President Bayar with a baseball and football. Feller is a member of the Cleveland Indians and Graham is star quarterback for the Cleveland Browns.

3. Three Vietminh divisions including No. 316, a heavy weapons outfit called the Iron Division, maintained pressure on Dien Bien Phu, the heavily fortified plain where the French keep a foothold in the Thai mountain country at Laos' back doorstep.

4. Two hundred miles to the east, troops of Vietminh division No. 320 infiltrated the Red River delta, the key defense bulwark of French Union forces against the sweep of communism into southeast Asia, and opened attacks on guard posts in the Ninh Binh and Nam Dinh sectors.

5. In the southeast Viet Nam, rebel resistance stiffened against a French drive to oust the Vietminh from the rich coastal strip of 220 miles between Cap Varella and Faifo.

No Major Threat

But the Vietminh soldiers, with all their strength in the Red River delta and with the aid of perhaps 60,000 irregulars and guerrillas who have infiltrated the delta, appeared to have no chance of smashing the tens of thousands of French Union defenders or seizing any significant number of the 1,200 fortifications they man.

The Vietminh seemed to be seeking instead to put as much territory as possible under their Red flag before the spring rains to convince the war-weary French a negotiated peace is the best way to end the seven-year-old conflict.

Confusion Compounded

Senate Split Four Ways On Bricker Amendment

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — Public confusion over the Bricker amendment was pretty general before the Senate started debate on it last week. Now the confusion is compounded.

The proposal by Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) to amend the Constitution seems dead in the form he offered it.

The question now is: Will the Senate approve any kind of amendment at all and, if so, what kind?

Bricker's amendment, as he proposed it, would restrict the scope of treaties made by the President with Senate approval and the power of the President by himself to make executive agreements with other countries.

First question: Is such an amendment necessary? Constitutional lawyers argue over that. Second question: If some kind of restriction is necessary, does the Bricker amendment go too far?

The dispute got so tangled in constitutional law, American history, Supreme Court decisions, old treaties, the foresight or lack of it among the framers of the Constitution, possible future events, benign or dire, past occurrences, human intentions and the fallibility of senators and presidents yet unborn that no one could claim with unassailable assurance to know the answer.

President Eisenhower started the Bricker amendment bleeding from all pores when he publicly said he was unalterably opposed to it. That chilled the ardor of some of Bricker's supporters in the Senate.

Eisenhower protested the Bricker amendment would tie him and this country's conduct of foreign affairs in knots. But he said he would not oppose some other kind of amendment, provided it met with his approval.

The Eisenhower position was enough to split Senate Republicans into those who still stuck with the Ohioan and those who would do whatever the President wished.

Then Sen. George (D-Ga) came up with an amendment of his own. This got a lot of support from Senate Democrats. Now Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn) and some other Democrats have still another kind of proposal they think might fit the problem and get Eisenhower's okay.

So now the Senate is split at least four ways: Bricker supporters, George supporters, those who'd go along with an amendment Eisenhower approved, and those like Kefauver who don't want any kind of amendment to the Constitution but think a simple bill by Congress will suffice.

To bring order out of chaos, Eisenhower's chief lieutenant in the Senate, Republican Leader Knowland of California, tried with the help of some other top Republicans to work out a compromise amendment to suit everyone, or nearly everyone.

But after weeks of trying that effort is still fruitless.

Ike's Economic Report Wins Betts' Approval

Eighth District Congressman Jackson E Betts a member of the House banking and currency committee, has voiced general approval of President Eisenhower's economic report which was submitted to the Congress last week Betts agreed with the President that with the termination of fighting in Korea a readjustment can be made without serious interruption in our economic growth

The Ohio legislator asserted that our country can not expect to perpetuate a boom that has been brought about by war defense spending and inflation Betts believes there is a well organized effort to 'talk' the country into a depression during a normal transition period of reduced mobilization 'Those who ballyhoo depression talk the most are the very ones who see in it the opportunity to regain control of our national government" he said

He believes the removal of wage and price controls the stopping of price inflation the development of new products available to consumers and the improved economic condition of the nations of the free world constitute an unusual combination of favorable factors for the future

Must Okay Recess Appointment

Warren's Confirmation By Senate Seen Routine

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's choice of Earl Warren to head the U. S. Supreme Court gets public scrutiny from a Senate Judiciary subcommittee.

Warren's recess appointment seems certain to win overwhelming approval. The main undecided question: Will he be asked to go before the committee in person?

—:—

BRICKER—A welter of words threateins collapse of GOP leaders' efforts to work out a compromise between Eisenhower and Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) over Bricker's proposed constitutional amendment on treaties and presidential agreements. Sen. George (D-Ga) joins Bricker in opposing a reported White House plan to bypass one clause authored by George. Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn) gets no support from Republican leaders for a new proposed substitute he and 11 colleagues offer, in the form of a bill rather than a stronger constitutional amendment.

BEESON—Albert C. Beeson, target of a party-line row among members of the Senate Labor Committee, revisits the senators even though they've already okayed him, 7-6, to serve on the National Labor Relations Board. Democrats say they have new information that Beeson plans to return to his former employer after a while on the NLRB.

CCC—Senate - House conferees dicker over differing versions of a bill to ease the financial squeeze on the farm price support - handling Commodity Credit Corp. The House favors 742 million dollars, as asked by the administration, but senators pulled a surprise in slashing this to 246 million.

Hamilton and Lockland Retain Lead in Court Poll

Ashland Holds Third Place; Sycamore High in B Action

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The unbeaten list is dwindling fast in Ohio's high school basketball campaign.

A check-up today showed only 7 of some 250 Class A schools still have unblemished records, along with 11 of the 850-odd squads in Class B.

Only 4 of the clean-record teams in Class A were able to crowd into the top 10 of the weekly Associated Press poll, and only 5 of the Class B all-victorious quintets made it.

The unbeaten list in Class A, with the number of wins, include Greenfield McClain 15, Columbus North 14, Tecumseh 12, Niles 12, Chagrin Falls Orange 12, Fremont Ross 11, and Cleveland South 10.

The Class B stalwarts are Sycamore and Vienna 19, Holgate 18, Strasburg 16, Bloomfield and Flushing 15, Bettsville 14, Waynesburg and West Mansfield 13, Copley 12 and Bourneville-Twin 11.

Ashland's Arrows were the big Class A victims last week, their 12-game winning streak being halted 70-60 to an East Liverpool squad which had lost 5 of 13. In Class B, Huron's 10-game stretch was snapped 47-38 by Fremont St. Joe, and Ottoville made it 13 in a row after losing its opener, by spoiling Columbus Grove's 13-game victory string.

The week's play had little effect on The Associated Press poll, although 8 new voters—boosting the total to 36 sports editors—participated.

The only change in Class A found Fremont Ross moving up to an eighth-place tie with Canton Timken, after being only 1 poll point behind last week. Hamilton Public picked up 14 first place votes to stay out front by 31 poll points over state champion Middletown—the first choice of only 1 voter.

Lockland Wayne, with 13 first place votes, held a 64-point edge over Delphos St. John in Class B. The two "B" leaders clash Saturday night, and Delphos may be minus its great play-maker, Chuck Geise. Chuck was hurt in an auto-truck mishap a week ago, and missed last week's 66-58 win over Wapakoneta St. Joe.

The Class B "top 10" became a "top 11" as Newark St. Francis, with 12-2 record, moved into a tenh-place tie with East Sparta.

Here's how 36 radio and newspaper sports editors rate the teams this week. In parentheses, the first place votes and the total poll points on a 10-9-8-ec. basis, with the won-lost records:

NEW COACH ROMPS WITH FAMILY. Terry Brennan, 25, newly-appointed Notre Dame football coach, romps with Terry Jr., 2, while his wife, Mary Louise, and Denise Marian, one month, look on at South Bend, Ind. Brennan succeeds Frank Leahy who resigned for reasons of health.

Surprise Appointment

Leahy Confident Brennan Will Succeed in New Post

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—Notre Dame sprang another surprise yesterday with the naming of a 25-year-old assistant football coach, Terry Brennan, to succeed Frank Leahy as head coach.

It had been felt by many that Brennan's age would prevent serious consideration for what is probably the most pressure-packed college coaching job in the country. Leahy's high opinion of his young assistant was a big factor in the choice.

"Terry is a very talented young man who borders almost on the genius as a coach," Leahy said. "His age is no barrier. Coaching is a young man's game. Terry will make good."

The Brennan appointment was announced only 19 hours after Leahy, 45, had called it quits, declaring that his health would not allow him to continue.

Prior to the announcement, Leahy had said only that any one of his seven assistants was capable of taking over. These included, in addition to Brennan, the freshman coach; Johnny Lujack, Joe McArdle, Johnny Druze, Walt Ziemba, Bill Earley and Bob McBride.

The university gave Brennan a three-year contract believed to call for $12,000 a year. However, money derived from fringe activities such as radio and television, writing, speaking, endorsements, and other business connections upped Leahy's annual income to over $50,000—some say as high as $70,000.

Despite his youth, Brennan is considered a good bet to fulfill the confidence of Notre Dame authorities in him.

As a 165-pound halfback for Notre Dame from 1945-1948, he started 30 of 38 games and Leahy considered him his clutch runner—the boy good for three or four yards in tight situations.

He turned down the professional game to coach Mt. Carmel High School in Chicago and it was his record there that prompted Leahy to summon him to South Bend for an assistant's post. At Mt. Carmel, he turned out three consecutive undefeated city champions, an unprecedented accomplishment.

Brennan, sandy-haired and freckle-faced, looks no more than his age. He is quiet and calm and impresses those who know him with his poise.

He is married to his hometown sweetheart from Milwaukee, the former Mary Louise Kelley, and has two children.

He was "thrilled and humbled" at being chosen to succeed Leahy but his new responsibility "does not alarm" him.

Prexies Seek Second Victory Of Season Over Galion Crew

Harding's Prexies attempt to get back on the win trail tonight on the Harding gymnasium hardwood. Galion, a team which fell before Harding early in the season, is the Harding opponent.

Jim Lawler's charges bowled over the visitors 72-38 at Galion in the Presidents' second game of the campaign but indications are that Galion has improved since that first meeting.

Coach Jack Shuck's forces bring a 5-6 mark here after winning two of their last three games. In their latest outing, Galion's cagers dropped a 69-49 verdict to Bellevue.

The locals will be out to snap a three-game losing streak with their sixth win of the year. Harding's 5-8 mark includes but one victory in its last nine starts.

Galion's tentative starting lineup will probably have Don Hathaway, 6-2 senior, and Don Sharrock, 5-11 sophomore, at the forwards; Tom Quay, 6-3 junior, at center; and Tubby Garverick, 5-10 junior, and his brother, Harry Garverick, 6-0 sophomore, at the guard spots.

The Garverick brothers are recent addition to the Galion starting lineup. Also likely to see action is Stan Lorens, 5-9 senior, a former starting guard, who has shoved in 59 points for the visitors this season.

Quay is the leading Galion scorer with 141 points in 11 games for a 12.8 per game average. Tubby Garverick is next with 97 points while Hathaway has parted the nets for 87, Sharrock for 69 and Harry Garverick for 32.

In the last meeting of the two clubs, Quay led the Galion attack with 10 while Tubby Garverick added nine. Lorens had seven.

Galion's slate thus far shows wins over Bucyrus twice, 57-49 and 53-50; Mt. Vernon, 56-51; Crestline, 70-55; Mansfield Madison, 74-59; and losses to Harding as well as Shelby, 75-48; Ashland, 73-55; Mansfield, 80-42; Norwalk, 79-70; and Bellevue.

Coach Lawler said today he would go with Max Kaelber, 6-0, and either Don Smith, 5-7, or Phil Carroll, 5-8, at the forwards; Dave Schnelker, 6-2, at center; and Doug Bibler, 5-7, and Ron Conroy, also 5-7, at the guards.

Bob Hamor, who has been seeing a large amount of action with the Prexies this year, was sick and missed school yesterday, Lawler said. However, the Harding coach expected him back today.

Conroy is currently the leading Prexy scorer with 181 points in 13 games for a 13.9 average. Smith has notched 114 points, Bibler 109, Schnelker 95, Kaelber 81, and Carroll 33. Hamor has 130.

Coach Al Beach is expected to start a revised lineup in the reserve encounter. Probable starters are Bob Messner, 6-3, and Ted Bibler, 6-2, at the forwards; Tom Coss, 6-3, at center; and Mike Shields, 5-8, and Keith Thackery, 5-7, at the guards.

The Galion futures bring a 4-7 mark here. After losing their first seven encounters, the Galion JV's have come back to notch four straight victories. The locals grabbed a 77-46 win in the first meeting. Harding's reserves take a 9-4 mark into tonight's preliminary contest.

Midgets Featured For Armory Card

Mohawks Hold 6½-Game Lead In IHL Chase

CINCINNATI (AP) — With a 6½ game lead, the Cincinnati Mohawks hold their best advantage of the season in the International Hockey League. And there seems to be no squad on the horizon which can take their measure consistently.

Player-coach Rollie McLenahan led the Mohawks to 3 victories and 1 tie last week. The tie stopped Johnstown's 4 game winning streak and a close 4-3 battle with Marion cut off the Barons' 6-game skein.

Gordon Vejprava of Marion rattled in three goals against Grand Rapds for his fifth hat trick of the season. He leads the league in that department, holding a one trick edge over teammate Ken Schultz.

The week's results caused no shifts in the standings.

Second-place Toledo played 1 game, dropping Fort Wayne 3-1. Marion, one-half a game behind Toledo, defeated Grand Rapids by comfortable 10-5 and 6-1 margins. Toledo and Marion battle tomorrow night.

Johnstown, No. 4 in the loop, plays an improved Milwaukee tonight. The Chiefs apparently are in the cellar permanently but they won 2 of 3 contests last week.

Troy, Fort Wayne and Louisville, separated by two games, are fighting for sixth-place, the last notch to earn a berth in the league playoffs. Troy lost its 2 contests while Fort Wayne and Louisville dropped 2 of 3.

Pat Wilson joined the Hoosier Komets as player-coach and in his first appearance as a defenseman aided in a 4-3 victory over Grand Rapids.

3 Massillon Aides To Assist Mather In Collegiate Field

MASSILLON, Ohio (AP)—Three of his assistants at Massillon's Washington High School will accompany Chuck Mather when he takes over as football coach for Kansas University.

The official announcement is to be made tomorrow, but Mather said last night the men going with him are Paul Schafer, Lauri Waritaninen and Dave Putts.

Mather added one of the Massillon junior high school coaches also would go along, but he did not name the man.

Carl (Ducky) Schroeder and Elwood Kammer, two other Mather assistants, declined invitations to move into the collegiate game. Schroeder said he would be eligible for a pension after seven more years here. Kammer is one of the candidates for the position Mather is leaving.

Braves Split Mound Staff In Deal To Land Thomson

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The Milwaukee Braves sliced into the best pitching staff in the National League yesterday to secure the long-distance hitting of the New York Giants' Bobby Thomson in the Braves' second big player trade of the winter

To get the brilliant, veteran outfielder and second-string catcher Sam Calderone, the Braves had to give up left-handed pitchers Johnny Antonelli and Don Liddle, utility catcher Ebba St Clair and rookie Billy Klaus, plus an undisclosed amount of cash

"Bobby Thomson definitely is my left fielder," Braves Manager Charlie Grimm said adding he plans to have Thomson bat in the cleanup spot.

"I want Bobby to hit behind Eddie Mathews," Grimm explained 'He's got a lot of speed and is a hard man to double Believe me, that boy won't hit into many double plays What's more, Thomson hits a long ball and can break up a game at any time with that blow over the fence"

The trade still leaves Grimm with his top pitcher Warren Spahn, and Chet Nichols, Bobby Buhl, Lew Burdette, Joey Jay and Gene Conley Veterans like Vern Bickford, Jim Wilson and Ernie Johnson are on hand, in addition to rookies Phil Paine and Roy Crone

Giants Manager Leo Durocher said, "We certainly hated to part with Bobby Thomson" He added that his club made the trade because the Giants needed pitchers

"We are pretty high on both Johnny Antonelli and Don Liddle," he added "We'll know more about how we stand when spring practice begins"

The 30-year-old Thomson reportedly was sought by the Braves since last September, mainly to give the team a sound No 4 hitter He has been a Giant for eight years and his batting average has fluctuated considerably from the high of 315 for a few games in 1946 to a low of 248 in 48 But in the last three years he has been most consistent in the slugging department In 1951 he had 32 homers 101 RBIs and a 293 average, in 1952 24 homers 108 RBIs and 270, last year, 26 homers, 106 RBIs and 288

Oliver Prefers Small Tourney Over NIT Bid

RIO GRANDE, Ohio (AP)—Coach Newt Oliver of Rio Grande College hinted today his fabulous basketball team might not accept a possible bid to play in the national tournament in New York

The possibility of inviting the hill-country Ohio team, winner of 15 of 19 games this season and 39 straight last year, cropped up yesterday at a meeting of the metropolitan basketball writers in New York

Asa Bushnell, NIT director, replied when asked specifically if Rio Grande would be asked to participate

'Every team with a good record will be considered for the tournament"

Western Kentucky's unbeaten Hilltoppers are the first team to accept a bid to the NIT, scheduled March 6-13 in Madison Square Garden Duquesne with a 17-0 record, is considering a similar move

Oliver said he had not been approached on the NIT matter, but had received a 'feeler' from officials of the NAIA small college tournament in Kansas City early in March.

"We'd certainly be honored to have the NIT consider us" said Oliver, 'and we'd consider a bid if we received one"

But the young coach admitted he would like his team to play in the small college playoffs

Two other possibilities of playing post-season basketball have been ruled out, Oliver stated.

The Rio Grande team was invited to play in Honolulu over the Easter school break Oliver also was considering taking some members of his team on a "barnstorming" tour of 8 or 10 games after the regular season ends March 1

Gable Decides To Quit MGM After 23 Years

Contract Due To End March 3; Affiliation Longest in Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The king is back at MGM but not for long Clark Gable announced Monday he will end his 23-year contract with the studio March 3

His was probably the longest star contract in Hollywood history

There has been talk that he might sign on for another term as MGM has been urging him to do He put an end to such speculation

'As of March 3 I'm a free man' he told me Twenty-three years at one studio is long enough for any man

Gable who is 53 today was back at the Culver City lot for the first time in 2½ years It has been so long that he even forgot which was his last picture here, (It was Across the Wide Missouri Since then he has made Never Let Me Go in England 'Mogambo' in Africa and Betrayed in Holland

He returned to the studio for more scenes in Betrayed' with Lana Turner and Vic Mature Looking trim in an English officer's uniform, he appeared to have changed little A trifle grayer at the temples perhaps but as crisp and dynamic as ever

He spent a large part of his first morning at work renewing acquaintences he asked for his same veteran crew on the picture but he made it clear that sentiment wasn't going to keep him at the studio

His plans for the future?

'I have no plans' he replied I suppose there have been pictures offered to me but I will not discuss them as long as I am under contract to the studio"

There has been talk that he might do 'Guys and Dolls," but he said that was news to him

Besides, that's a musical, isn't it' He commented, indicating he wouldn't favor that

Gable said he found picture making abroad very interesting and he may do more of the same But I have no plans" he added. He said he liked to travel at this point in his life and had just flown in from Arizona the night before reporting to the studio

Rumors he was shopping for a ranch in Arizona were unfounded, he said

"It has always been a favorite vacation place for me between pictures' he explained, 'and I've always kept my eye out for a good place to buy But I have no plans"

After he returned from his wartime service in the Air Force, he was disappointed with the way his career was handled Most of his films failed to have the impact of his prewar hits His straight salary was heavily taxed, and MGM doesn't approve of percentage deals It is probable that his future picture contracts will include a share of the profits

Selvy Collects 25 To Set New Scoring Mark

NEW YORK (AP) — Furman's Frank Selvy, a 6-foot-3 midget among the basketball giants, today seemed a cinch to lift the major college scoring record so high that even the big boys won't be able to touch it for many seasons to come.

The jump-shot artist from Corbin, Ky, got his hands on the record last night by scoring 25 points in a 70-53 victory over Clemson This gave him 1 904 for 2½ seasons of play with a dozen games left The old three-year mark of 1,888 was set by Clyde Lovellette of Kansas in 1952

Selvy's performance was the highlight of a big night in college basketball as the teams started hitting the boards in earnest after midyear exams

Western Kentucky and Duquesne both triumphed, bringing them a game closer to the elusive perfect season that no major school has attained since Army did it in 1943-44

Western beat Bowling Green 94-82 for its 20th straight Duquesne notched No 18 at the expense of Villanova 70-41. Indiana's defending NCAA champions won their 13th against a single loss, defeating Louisville 80-71

Duquesne, ranked second to Kentucky in this week's Associated Press poll, overpowered Villanova with an all-around team effort. The losers came up with the game's high scorer in Bob Schaefer with 27 points, but none of his teammates got close to double figures

Clutch shooting by Forest Able kept Western Kentucky's streak intact Bowling Green crept within three points in the third quarter only to have Able hit for six straight points He got a total of 25 points to 31 for Tom Marshall

Indiana's battle with Louisville was a rough-and-tumble affair in which Louisville stars John Purdhoe and Chuck Noble fouled out and Indiana forward Dick White had a technical foul called against him for pushing a Louisville player in an out of bounds scramble late in the contest Don Schlundt hit 13 of 16 free throws and added eight baskets for scoring honors with 29 points

Bob Pettit of Louisville State runner-up to Selvy in the season's scoring race, was held to 15 points as LSU squeezed past Mississippi 53-52 for its sixth straight Southeastern Conference victory

Michigan State edged Northwestern 65-62 in a single Big Ten game Richmond beat West Virginia 85-80 in the Southern Conference Arkansas whipped Texas A&M 80-55 in the Southwest Conference

Seattle climbed from 11th to sixth place on the strength of its continued improved play The West Coast club has won 20 in a row since its opening game loss to Wichita, and five of those who balloted now believe they're the nation's best

Duke (13-4) moved up 12 notches to the No 8 position The Blue Devils had 167 points most of them as a result of the 82-65 licking they handed Navy Saturday

Up-and coming La Salle moved from 12th to ninth place with 165 points and two first place ballots The Philadelphia five has come on strong after dropping three early season games They have won 15

Notre Dame and Holy Cross remained among the first 10, although each lost ground The Irish (10-2) dropped from sixth to seventh and the Crusaders (14-1) from seventh to 10th

Lunchmeat Firm Enters Guilty Plea

The Schmidt Provision Co of Toledo one of 23 lunchmeat packers in the state charged with failing to meet state standards, pleaded guilty in Toledo Municipal Court and received a suspended fine of $25

A state inspector charged a sample of the firm's lunchmeat contained too much moisture In defense, the company said, 'Wide variations in natural moisture and protein content of meat make it extremely difficult to comply with the complicated testing standards of the state'

It contended the sample of meat which the inspector said contained added water and milk about double the legal maximum 'does not present a true picture of the firm's operation Another package of meat might well have tested within the legal requirements"

May-December Romance Blamed For Death of Hippo

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Celo, the lovable 4 000 pound hippo at the Swope Park Zoo died Monday—perhaps the victim of a May and December romance

Cleo was 28—about middle-aged as hippo go—and a spinster until last June

Then the zoo brought in Mark a 5-year-old male, as a mate for Celo

William T Cully, the zoo director, said Celo hadn't seen another hippo in 25 years

'She probably thought she was the only one left in the world," he said

Last month Celo worth about $4 000 developed a kidney ailment Doctors thought it might be associated with pregnancy. She became very sullen

Cully said another hippo probably will be purchased as a mate for Mark.

By John Crosby

Observation on Matrimony

One of the earliest of the husband-and-wife domestic comedies, "Ethel and Albert," is also one of the very few in which the participants are not married — at least not to each other

J. CROSBY

For some reason this seems to add authority and an extra measure of honesty to the portrayal of Peg Lynch and Alan Bunce as a woman and man engaged in the precarious business of trying to live together

After all, Ozzie ad Harriet Nelson and Lucy and Desi Arnez and the rest of them really have to live together so that the domestic entanglements on the stage had better not resemble the real ones at home if peace is to be maintained

MISS LYNCH and Mr Bunce have no such worries They can separate right after the show and go their respective ways I don't know whether this has anything to do with it or not but the "Ethel and Albert" program frequently g closer to the fundamental differences between men and women than the others

Ethel and Albert are masters at non-sequitur conversation They start out bravely on a topic of conversation, then, he pursuring his masculine train of thought and she her feminine one, wind up talking about entirely different things

Miss Lynch who writes the show has a great flair for this sort of male - female conversation which struggles for a common point of view and never quite achieves it Ethel and Albert are a very human couple who, in spite of themselves, live in quite different worlds which might be described as His or Hers

WHERE THE STRUGGLE between the sexes in shows like "I Love Lucy" is open warfare—Lucy wants a career Dezi tries to thwart her — the collisions between Ethel and Albert are covert and only dimly understood by the man and wife It's a small art but a very true one

In addition to this gift Miss Lynch introduces some perfectly wonderful minor characters from time to time—a garrulous pride-filled TV repair man, a worldly wise cynical detective, a chatty frump of a neighbor

Altogether it's a very pleasant half hour (NBC-TV 7 30 p m EST Saturdays) and one that should have attracted more attention than it has

ON THE SUBJECT of wife portrayals, one of the most convincing and easily the most deadly at the moment is that of Audrey Meadows as Jackie Gleason's other half in their Honeymooners sketch When Mr Gleason is raging around her trying to win her over to one of his hair-brained schemes she levels her eyelashes at him like bayonets and transfixes him with a deadpan silent stare of utterly merciless dissent

Without uttering a word she radiates scorn condescension and total disapproval It's a really great picture of a wife saying No with out opening her mouth and it must make a lot of husbands distinctly uncomfortable

INCIDENTALLY, there seems to be a small trend among the comedians conceivably spurred by the success of the Berle format More and more they are experimenting with the single, solid story line where in the past the shows might have contained two or three different sketches Red Buttons is doing it with his half hour show Gleason is doing it with his hour show Martha Raye is doing it, too

In the beginning all the comics were doing old nightclub or vaudeville routines Then came the sketches which at their worst were burlesque turns and at their best revue sketches Now, the play is the thing and the comedians are all turning into actors.

Conservancy District May Appeal Ruling

DEFIANCE Ohio (AP) — The directors' report of the Maumee Watershed Conservancy District indicates the district won't make any moves until it decides whether to appeal a ruling against the district

Defiance County Common Pleas Court recently ordered the district to return money collected for conservancy purposes to the district's 15 member counties Judge James J McCrystal, in so ruling, used as precedent last year's Ohio Supreme Court decision that the Scioto Sandusky Conservancy District had no right to collect levies without county approval

The decision hinged on definition of the levy The district said it was an assessment The court said it was a tax and therefore needed county approval.

In other business yesterday the Maumee watershed conservancy court elected Leo Subel Deshler (Henry County) manufacturer a director for five years He succeeds Otto Gohlke Findlay city engineer Gohlke quit after the attorney general ruled he could not hold both jobs

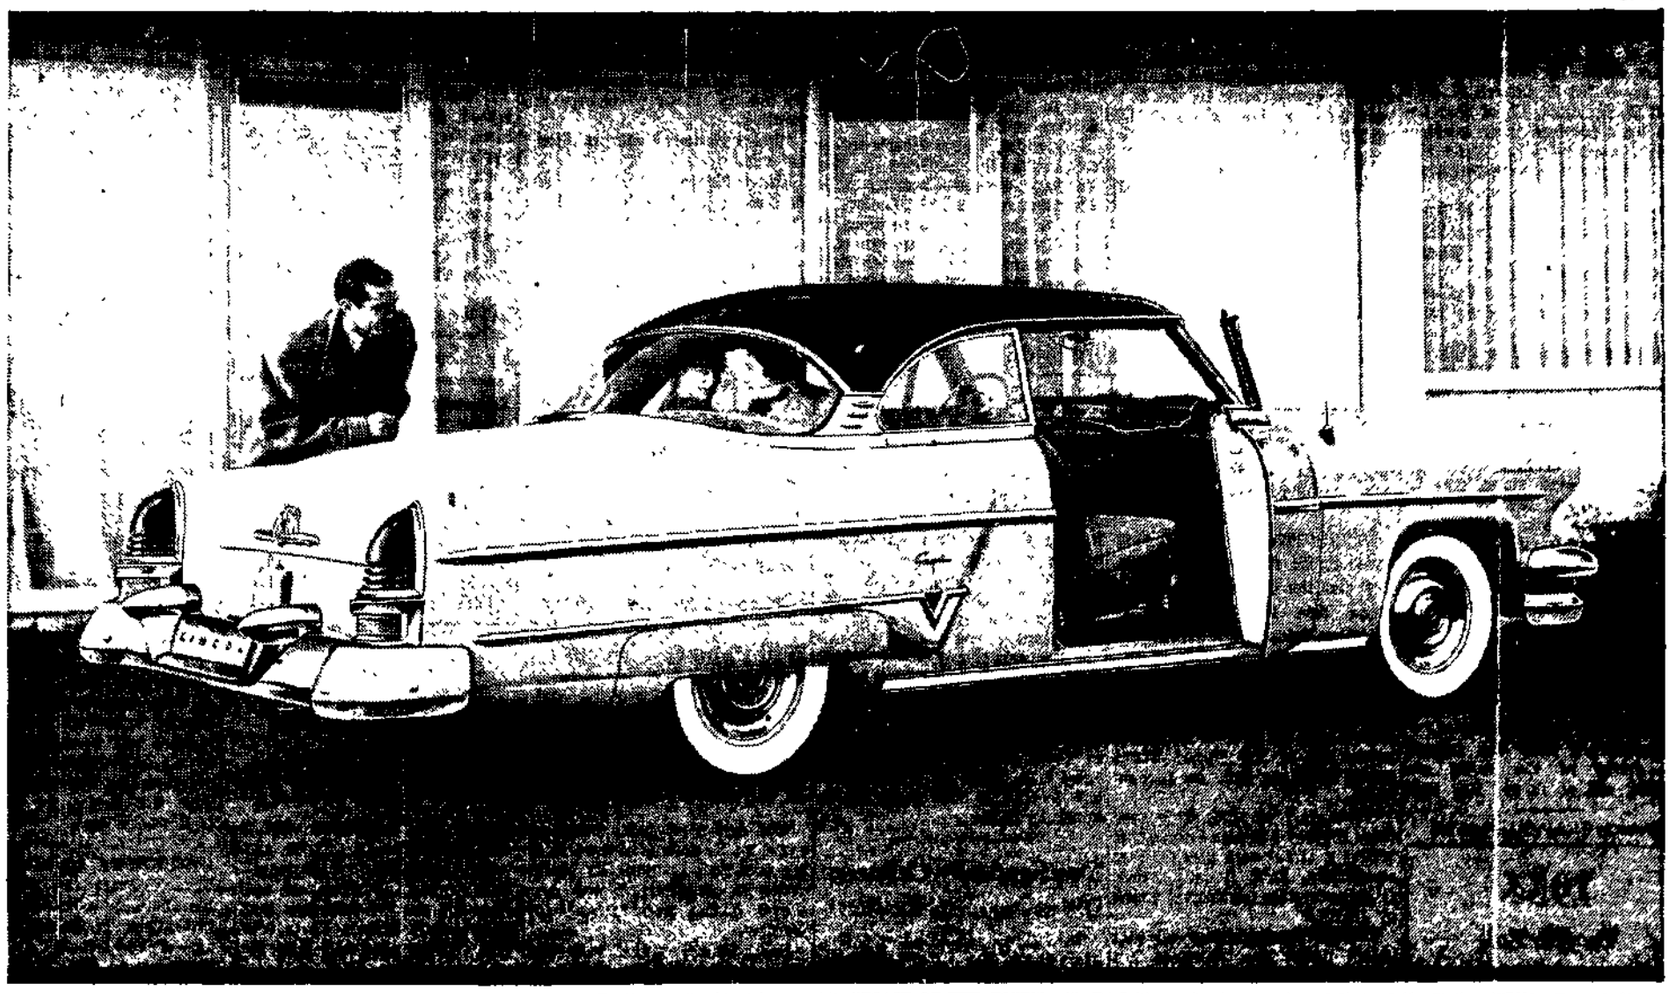
THE MOVE TO MODERN LIVING
See why the trend is growing to the 1954 Lincoln
The facts are simple: Lincoln is the one fine car whose sales have more than doubled in two short years.
There are good reasons why this trend keeps growing. The great new Lincoln for 1954 is the most dramatic edition of the car that started the big change in American motorists' ideas about fine cars.
Take, for instance, Lincoln's new styling—from the stunning new grille to the crisp, new rear deck and distinctive new taillights. It is a completely new design—akin to the ground-hugging, functional look found wherever the living is modern. Note, too, how well Lincoln's new colors and fabrics go with Lincoln's new styling; dramatic new shades in nylons, gabardines, and leathers.
Above all you have incredible performance. Lincoln's world-famous V-8 engine has the new automatic 4-barrel carburetor—gives you superbly controlled action at all times. Add to all this the optional features—power steering, power brakes, the 4-way power seat and electric power window lifts—and driving becomes practically effortless. You'll know what we mean the moment you drive a wonderful new 1954 Lincoln or Lincoln Capri.
Performance proof: Lincoln again won 1st, 2nd, 3rd and 4th places over all stock cars in the 1,912-mile Mexican Pan-American Road Race.


Don't miss the big television hit, "TOAST OF THE TOWN" with Ed Sullivan, Sunday evening, 8:00 to 9:00. Station WBNS, Channel 10.

Familiar Barns Lose Popularity

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (UP)—The old red barn is on its way out as a type of architecture, according to Prof. C. Theodore Larson of the University of Michigan.

The traditional American general-purpose barn is an architectural fossil that will soon go the way of the covered bridge and the one-hoss shay, the architecture professor said.

Farms are becoming more mechanized and there is less and less use for the huge loft to take care of hay and grain for horses and cattle, he pointed out.

"What we're looking for," the professor explained, "is a low structure that is more like an umbrella in that it will protect mechanical equipment from rain and snow. It also must provide storage for tools and other items necessary for maintenance of farm equipment."

Larson said that more rapidly changing conditions also make it necessary that the new type of barn be one that can readily be dismantled and reassembled. The university's Engineering Research Institute is working with its architects to achieve such a structure.

Larson said the materials used will be mainly steel and plastic. The plastic would be used for skylights in the umbrella - shaped structure.

Present plans call for a unit that can be assembled or taken apart with a screwdriver and a wrench.

WRONG-WAY JOHNSON

SIOUX FALLS, S. D. (UP)—Two cars, travelling on a highway in the same direction here, collided head-on. The autos were driven by Farrel B. Johnson, Huron, and Roland E. Wray, Sioux Falls. Johnson's car, which was ahead, hit a patch of ice on the highway, spun around and collided head-on with Way's auto.

NO AMATEURS WANTED

WESTPORT, Conn. (UP) — The Westport Volunteer Fire Department says it's okay for policemen to go to blazes, but it thinks they should confine their activities to traffic duties. The firemen adopted a resolution asking police not to "interfere" by helping fight fires.

New Kaisers Feature Airplane Design

New models of the Kaiser automobile were announced today by the Kaiser-Willys Corp Marionites will be able to see them soon at Marion Motors, 440 E Center St

Leading the Kaiser line this year is the Manhattan model. At 216 inches, this is the longest automobile ever built by the company It incorporates several airplane theories designed for greater mileage economy and extra horsepower

Powering the Manhattan is the 'Super-Power Kaiser 226' engine It incorporates an entirely new principle, a secondary torque source, modeled after the aeronautical type super-charger The idea here is to deliver a fuel-air mixture to the carburetor and combustion chambers under pressure, instantly providing a highly volatile charge which is translated into increased horsepower The engine is rated at 140 horsepower

The Manhattan also features the low center of gravity customary in Kaisers and its overall design gives it one of the lowest silhouettes on the road

Other major 1954 style changes are the matching air-intake hood ornament which helps in engine cooling new chrome trim, 3 964 square inches of glass to provide more visibility, a horn bar instead of the conventional horn ring and a safety pad for the protectio of rear seat passengers

An innovation this year is the tail light design The lights extend forward on the crown of the rear fenders to provide "safety-glow" illumination from both sides as well as the rear f the car

New aso in the 1954 Kaiser is the 'steering turret' which extends directy from the dash and encloses the shift linkage in both manual and Hydra-Matic drive models in addition to the steering post Dials and controls are grouped directly before the driver and the radio panel glove compartment and clock are recessed into the panel below a newly-styled safety-padded dash

Persian gray and honey beige are the new body colors incorporated in the 1954 Kaiser

Power steering and power brakes are optional

Check on Danger Spots Helps Curtail Number of Mishaps

The Marion post of the state highway patrol credited its policy of "selective enforcement" with reducing the January accident toll for this area

January mishaps the patrol announced, numbered only 39 There were 55 in December, a normal accident figure

'Selective enforcement" is the patrol's policy of maintaining a close watch on the places where accidents have happened and on the day and the time they happened Patrol cars at those accident-prone places check closely on driving errors that contribute to accidents They watch particularly for excessive speeding passing on a yellow line, at an intersection or a railroad track, and failure to obey stop signs

As accidents go down with "selective enforcement' arrests increase correspondingly. January saw 285 arrests. The December figure was 197.

Denies Infidelities

Wife Blackmailed Him, James Roosevelt Claims

LOS ANGELES (AP) — James Roosevelt, denying his wife's charges that he committed adultery wih 12 women, says he was being blackmailed when he signed a letter admitting nine infidelities.

He says he knew the letter to be false but he signed it to keep his wife from suing for divorce in 1945 and thereby adding to his father's burdens as president.

Issues Statement

This was the answer given in a prepared statement yesterday by the eldest son of the late Franklin D. Roosevelt.

He said also that he will decide before April 2 whether he will run for Congress in the 26th District. Some Democratic party leaders have suggested he withdraw. April 2 is the final date on which to declare candidacy.

Mrs. Romelle Schneider Roosevelt made the adultery charges in filing suit for separate maintenance last Thursday. The letter was filed with her complaint. A preliminary hearing on her demand for support payments has been set for Friday.

"My wife has chosen to make the most ugly accusation which it is possible to make against any man," Roosevelt's statement said. "Each and every allegation of misconduct by the 12 persons mentioned with me is completely false and without foundation."

Apologized to Women

Roosevelt offered "an especial apology to the nine women named in the letter signed by him.

"Each and every one of them is completely innocent of any misconduct with me," he said. "The harm which has been done them I can never repair, but I can and do emphasize their innocence, ask their forgiveness and understanding of this unfortunate incident."

From the very beginning, he said, his wife displayed an "unreasoning demand for material security" and developed "an unreasoning fear and jealousy" of his social contacts. The result was "a calculated campaign" to transfer to her all his material assets "and a constant threat to accuse me of imaginary infidelities," he said.

"This pattern reached its climax in the early part of 1945, when I was repeatedly faced with the demand that I acknowledge these imaginary happenings and, as she put it, 'purge my soul,'" his statement said.

Given Alternative

"I was given an alternative. She stated that if I once did this she would forever cease these demands and begin our martial life anew. If I did not, she would proceed with a divorce naming all individuals."

This, said Roosevelt, was when he was entering the fifth year of service with the Marine Corps and when he was "very much below par physically," having contracted malaria and other disabilities in the south Pacific. He said he was promised that if he would sign a letter prepared by attorneys it would never be made public and in time would be destroyed.

"That it was blackmail I now recognize, but my desire to keep these innocent people from unjustified attacks while I was overseas and unable to defend myself my desire to make, if possible, a success of my marriage and my desire to prevent any anguish to my own family led me to believe in the sincerity of my wife's statement," Roosevelt said.

Sought Successful Marriage

Upon his return from service he made every effort to "achieve a successful marriage," and he believed his wife finally was convinced that her charges were imagined when they proceeded to have their three children, the statement said. But, he added, her imagined financial insecurity and various psychological factors involved in the marriage "so affected my wife that she had made living together impossible."

"Threats of divorce or suicide," he said, "were an almost daily occurrence."

Kentucky Hits Back at Ohio's Axle-Mile Tax

Partial Cancellation Of Reciprocity Pact Hits Buckeye Truckers

IRONTON, Ohio (AP)—The state of Kentucky has begun its war against Ohio's axle-mile tax on trucks.

Weighing stations between the two states were in action yesterday as Kentucky began demanding payment of its weight tax.

Said P. D. Avant, supervisor of the Eastern Kentucky Motor Transportation Department:

"x x x As a result of the new Ohio highway use tax, effective Oct. 1, 1953, the State of Kentucky has partially canceled the existing reciprocity agreements with the State, of Ohio regarding motor trucks."

All Ohio trucks crossing the Ashland Coal Grove bridge near here were checked for Kentucky weight licenses. Avant said stations also are operating at Louisa, South Portsmouth, Catlettsburg, Maysville, at three bridges in the Covington-Newport area, Milton and Louisville.

Ohio trucks without the licenses were delayed until their drivers obtained them at county seats.

George M. Catlett, assistant attorney general assigned to the transportation department, said truckers were complying willingly.

The Ohio tax on trucks with more than two axles amounts to about $10 a trip through Ohio. The Kentucky tax starts at 18,000 pounds for gross loads on privately owned trucks. On hired trucks the tax ranges from $22 for 5,000 pounds up to $300 for 42,000 pounds. Licenses are good for a year.

To escape paying both taxes, one Ohio hauler, the Dance Freight Lines, Inc., began moving its home office from Cincinnati to Lexington, Ky.

"It's just the difference of surviving or going out of business," explained Asst. Manager Roy Kubler.

KENTON — For the first time in the history of Hardin County, a scheduled five-day county fair will be held, county fair officials announced.

Formerly, the fair has run for only four days, but another day has been added to handle the state black angus cattle show which has been awarded to the local fair.

This year the fair will start on Monday, Sept. 27, and continue through Oct. 1. It will open one day ahead of the usual date. The state angus show will be held Thursday.

Low Appropriation May Cause Cutback By Morrow Sheriff

MT. GILEAD — Services of the Morrow County sheriffs office may be greatly curtailed in the near future unless additional funds for the department are forthcoming.

Commissioners appropriated $12,265 for the sheriff's budget for the year 1954 compared to his request for $14,815. The office actually, however, will have but $10,665 available as $1,600 of the present year's budget was used to make up a deficit of that amount from last year. Unless about $2,500 can be secured from other funds the sheriff said that the following services will probably have to be dispensed with: the employment of a full-time deputy and funds for operating automobiles and equipment.

Commissioners at the meeting called the State Bureau of Inspections to inquire if money in the county road and bridge fund can be used for the sheriff's department. The money in this fund, secured from fines, is now being used for insurance payments and has been used to purchase a car for the county engineer's department.

Babies No Bet To Cure Recession

Birth Rate Unreliable Business Factor

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Babies—will they cure any recession that may be in the making?

The reasoning: Since people will go on having babies, the population of the United States will continue to grow at its present howling pace. Meeting the needs of all these new citizens will launch business and industry on another boom.

But of all the statistics which slide-rule boys like to project into the future as a basis for their prophesies, the birth rate can be the most fickle. It fluctuates among nations. It changes from one generation to the next. And it reacts sensitively to good times and bad.

During the depression of the 1930's people had too much trouble feeding themselves to welcome any more mouths. Both the marriage rate and the birth rate went down, as they usually do in bad times. America's future and talked a lot.

People got pretty gloomy about about its being a mature economy with no more growth left in it.

But the war and the postwar boom sent the marriage and birth rates up again—as wars and booms usually do.

The population grew more rapidly than ever before. Good times brought earlier marriages and noticeably larger families.

People are talking now about an indefinite boom in the population and therefore in the economy. Some even wonder a little where all the food is to come from to feed so many people as most experts now predict for the America of the future.

Only a few seem to wonder, should there be another depression, would there be as many early marriages as now, as many babies, as great an urge to have large families to feed, clothe and educate.

Population has its other phase. Science has steadily increased the term of life expectancy. The army of the aged is growing at the same impressive rate as the school of young fry. Chances seem good that the number of the aged will continue to multiply.

Business has a big stake in any change in the population's gait. Many businesses will be affected if the population multiplies at the same astounding rate as now, or if it slows down again, or if it results in bigger proportions of old people and children.

Population growth rates will determine how many cars are made; how much clothing and food will be needed; how many household appliances and furnishings can be sold. It will determine whether another big boom in home building is coming, whether more schools must be built, how many more highways will be needed.

In turn these things will set the pattern of production of raw materials, building of more industrial plants, fashioning of new tools of production.

Sen. Bricker's Stitch in Time

The next realization awaiting citizens who have been following the debate over Article VI in the Constitution is this:

The Bricker amendment in its revised form does not alter in any way the Constitutional treaty process as many lawyers believe it would have been altered by the amendment in the form recommended by the Senate Judiciary Committee.

Thus, the proposed amendment becomes, in effect, a means of obtaining a favorable vote by three fourths of the states on what is essentially a congressional resolution of intent concerning Article VI.

Somewhat the same effect could have been obtained by passage of a joint resolution by both houses of Congress. This resolution then would have gone into the record as a reminder to all future legislators, executives and judges of the United States that in the debate of 1954 it was the sense of all the participants that no provision of any treaty or other international agreement which conflicted wiwth the Constitution should be of any force or effect.

This would have satisfied Sen. Bricker's original purpose in raising the question of whether or not international treaties might be used some day to destroy civil liberties in the United States. He and many others had detected a drift in this direction, in the form of treaties proposed for international adoption under the United Nations.

It was his idea then — as it is now — that the United States should take a stitch in time; that it should protect its civil liberties in advance.

But between the original proposal and the proposal voted out of the Senate Judiciary Committee there had come to be a substantial difference. It consisted of language in the later proposal which many legalists believed would cause a drastic change in foreign-policy operations of the United States.

Sen. Bricker, himself, said he did not see how there could be a drastic change, but he was willing to concede that the doubt had better be resolved in favor of the existing arrangement.

As was pointed out during the debate in the Senate, this arrangement provided every safeguard needed, provided the Senate and the federal judiciary stayed alert.

The net effect of the debate which Sen. Bricker opened four years ago with his original proposal for taking a stitch in time will be to keep the Senate, the judiciary and the American public alert.

There must be no limitation of civil liberties through misuse of the treaty power.

It's a safe bet now that there won't be, thanks to Sen. Bricker.

A Bridge at Belgrade

Not so much is heard about Titoism as was heard when the over-hopeful West wanted to believe the strong man of Yugoslavia had undermined the Kremlin.

It's clear now that Tito's damage to the Kremlin, though embarrassing, was by no means fatal. He proved it was possible for a Communist to break away from the Kremlin's domination without fatal consequences. That was significant but it was no more fatal to the Kremlin than it was to Tito.

Yet, when Tito declares on the occasion of his "re-election" that he intends to do business with all nations on a basis of "mutual respect," he may be hurting the Kremlin's domination of the Communist conspiracy more than he threatened to hurt it in 1948 when he made a clean break with Moscow.

Yugoslavia is dominated geographically by Russia and its satellite states in the Balkans. Yet its leader — an avowed Communist — dares to tell the dictatorship at Moscow that he will maintain contacts with it and with the West as long as his country enjoys the respect of both sides in the struggle between the Communists and anti-Communists.

Tito's independence is an even tougher reality for the Kremlin to face than his defiance.

More Power to You

When Brig. Gen. David Sarnoff announced means of generating electricity from the element strontium, a radioactive by-product of splitting the atoms of uranium-235, the irony of our times bit deeper.

Here within the grasp of laboratory physicists is a storage battery of nearly inexhaustible capacity—enough for a lifetime. It would be small and require no maintenance. Heat and cold would not affect it.

Either as a source of starting power or, in larger forms, as a means of operating power it would go on forever.

It's something to think about the next time the cumbersome wet-cell battery in your car goes dead. If you live long enough, you may own a fool-proof car battery that will outlive you. If you live long enough, you may bless the day when atom-splitting eased your worries instead of giving you and your government a chronic case of the multi-billion-dollar shakes.

Bricker Debate May Reveal Flaw in Constitution

None of the proposals advanced either by the opponents or proponents of the Bricker amendment to the Constitution has really come to grips with the fundamental issue—how the people of the United States may be safeguarded against becoming involved without their consent in commitments that could mean the sacrificing of their youth in war.

The Bricker amendment doesn't begin to meet the real abuse that has arisen in the last quarter of a century — the tendency of the chief executive to refuse to submit to the Senate for ratification or rejection the agreements he has made with a foreign government. Nor does it meet the objection raised for decades in the past that a small minority in the Senate can block ratification of an all-important treaty when the necessary two-thirds vote for ratification is lacking by a narrow margin of one or two senators.

Amid all the controversial statements that have been issued on the subject by both sides, it seems strange that the same protection against abuse of power afforded the people of Canada, our next-door neighbor, is not being offered to the American people.

THERE ARE SOME opponents of the Bricker amendment, for example, who argue, in effect, for a dictator in foreign affairs — a president who can operate in the realm of foreign policy "unhampered," as they call it, but actually unchecked at all by the the people's legislature.

What is happening, of course, is that the American system of government, which never was seriously challenged as to its effectiveness in the handling of matters of foreign policy until recent years, has suddenly proved unworkable in an atomic age because of the separation of the executive and legislative branches of government.

Instead of a "responsible" government — one that is directly responsible to the people at all times—the United States has what some historians have described as an "irresponsible" system.

There would be no need of a debate about a Bricker amendment today if the United States had a parliamentary system of government wherein the executive and legislative are merged so that both are responsible to the people, who can at any time dissolve a legislature or remove a prime minister.

WHAT HAS BEEN lost sight of by both sides in the controversy over the Bricker amendment are these basic principles which none of the pending proposals would remedy:

1. A president of the United States is under no obligation contained in the Constitution to submit any international agreement or treaty to the Senate at a particular time. He can wait a month or four years and his successor can continue indefinitely to ignore the ratification process of the Senate.

2. A president of the United States is not limited as to his right to send the youth of the nation into war instantly — which, of course, is a good thing in case of a direct attack on territory of the United States, but there is no requirement in the Constitution that he must then submit his action for approval or disapproval by both houses of Congress. Also, there is no provision of the Constitution which bars the president from ordering our military forces into action to protect some other country that is attacked if he vaguely deems it to be in the national interest.

3. No obligation is written into the Constitution requiring that the elected representatives of the people in both houses of Congress shall vote to ratify or reject international agreements and treaties that involve commitments which could lead to the use of our armed forces. Yet, the Constitution specifically says that both houses of Congress alone have the right to "declare" war.

4. No definition is provided by the Constitution — or by Supreme Court interpretation — which tells clearly the difference between an "executive agreement" and a treaty. When an executive is afraid the Senate will not ratify, he usually calls it an "executive agreement" and doesn't submit it to the Senate.

President Franklin D. Roosevelt and his successor, Mr. Truman, never submited the Yalta Agreements to the Senate. Indeed, many of them were kept secret a long time, and yet those agreements changed the course of history in the Far East and may have led to the Korean war in which 140,000 American casualties were suffered.

SOMETIMES, as a result of presidential inaction, obligations are piled up which become so entangling that Congress is subsequently compelled to enact legislation to carry out those obligations or place the United States in the position before the world of having repudiated the signature of its president.

To this day the rest of the world thinks the United States welched on its signature when the Senate refused to ratify the Versailles Treaty, creating the League of Nations, which President Wilson signed at Paris in 1919. The Senate acted unwisely but within its constitutional right to reject a treaty failing to get a two-thirds majority.

There would be no such tragic consequences if all treaties and agreements had to be submitted to a majority vote of both houses coincident with the signing of such treaties and agreements or within a brief specified interval.

Unless some safeguard like this is provided — and the Bricker amendment does not cover such a contingency — the only other way to protect the American people against the arbitrary action of the president or the Congress is to provide a parliamentary method like that enjoyed by Canada, which certainly has one of the most stable governmental systems in the world.

The debate over the Bricker amendment should be welcomed —it opens the eyes of the people to some conspicuous weaknesses in the Constitution.

Unfairness of Minimum Wage Law

By Jay G. Hayden

In turning thumbs down on any increase of the existing federally legislated 75-cent-an-hour minimum wage, President Eisenhower disclosed how restricted and unfair that provision actually is.

Of more than 63,000,000 currently employed workers, the President said, only 24,000,000 are covered by the existing law. Since two-thirds of those affected are factory workers—including employes in steel, automobile and all the other most highly paid industries — the number of persons directly benefited by the act must be infinitesimal.

"Neither the federal or state laws now include the lowest-paid workers," the President's economic report said, "Yet a floor that does not support the poorest workers may compound his miseries in two ways; it may force him to pay higher prices as a customer of the covered industries have let go, behave risen; and it may push down his wages by obliging him to compete for jobs with persons the covered industries have le go, because they are unable to pay the higher minimum. An effective minimum-wage program should cover millions of low-paid workers now exempted."

-:-

STATING the same problem in a different way, Samuel K. McConnell Jr., chairman of the House Labor Commitee, said:

"We can have either a relatively low minimum with few exemptions or a relatively high minimum with many exemptions."

Before enacting the law originally in 1938, Congress exempted a large majority of the nation's wage earners from its operation. Incident to increasing the minimum wage from 40 cents to 75 cents in 1949, still more exemptions were voted.

First the act is confined to industries engaged in interstate commerce and even in that category half the otherwise eligible workers are exempted specifically. Among the large classes wholly ruled out are agricultural workers and those engaged in food-processing industries — canneries and the like — within the area of production.

All office workers are excluded and so are employes in retail or service establishments, laundries for examples, where more than 50 per cent of the annual sales volume is within the state.

Logging operations are exempted if the number of employes does not exceed 12. Workers on small newspapers, operators of telephone switchboards with no more than 750 subscribers, and selected groups in the fishing and maritime industries are specifically excluded.

-:-

THE LOUDEST agitation for federal minimum-wage legislation during the 1930's came from New England, based on the claim that its textile industry was being ruined by competition of low wage Southern mills.

Latest census statistics, however, disclosed that out of 400,000 cotton textile mill workers, 1.6 per cent earn less than 85 cents an hour and only 4.6 per cent less than 90 cents an hour.

Of all wage and salary recipients in the nation, the census says one-fifth receive less than $800 a year and two-fifths less than $1,977. The bulk of the lowest one-fifth are farm workers, small-town laborers and domestic servants, scarcely any of whom come within the purview of the federal minimum-wage law.

Value of this census finding is reduced by failure to report the number of hours worked, but a recent private survey showed that one-fourth of the small earners put in less than half time.

It is notable that while New England sentiment has strongly favored a higher national minimum wage, no state in that section has gone beyond the 75-cent federal wage floor in behalf of the large proportion of its workers who fail to qualify under the federal law.

MASSACHUSETTS established a widely inclusive state minimum wage of 65 cents an hour in 1950 and increased it in 1952 to 75 cents. Connecticut enacted a 75-cent-an-hour wage minimum in 1952. New Hampshire set a wage floor of 50 cents an hour in 1949 and increased it to 60 cents in 1953.

Twenty-six states have minimum wage laws of some sort, but most of them confined to women and-or minors. Twenty-two states, mostly in the South, have no minimum-wage laws by their own enactment. The U.S. Womens Bureau recently estimated that 8,000,000 women workers, or nearly half of the nation's female labor force, have no state-provided wage protection. The great bulk of that group, as it appears, fail to qualify under the federal minimum.

Economists disagree as to the effect of a minimum wage boost on over-all worker pay. Some say it permanenly narrows the wage differential between the unskilled and the skilled and hence weakens the initiative of the lower-paid worker to improve himself. Others claim the governmentally prescribed wage floor incites the better-paid workers to seek raises that maintain the traditional differential, with result that wages rise all along the line in proportion to the statutory minimum.

No Leftovers

By TRUMAN TWILL

A plaintive little piece about leftovers in an out-of-own newspaper set us thinking about whatever happened to this once-annoying problem at the Twillery.

Most of the time, lately, the refrigerator at our house contains nothing more exciting than a few eggs, half a dozen bottles of milk, a flitch of bacon and the customary wedges of cheese and rectangles of oleo — no leftovers.

In fact, whatever leftovers do appear are in the canned fruit department, being composed of portions of cans of fruit too large to be consumed at one meal. These are not leftovers in a strict sense. Nor is the uneaten part of a turkey, a ham or a roast which was expected to last for more than one meal.

Yet there was a time when he leftover problem at our house was just as messy and annoying as it is in establishments which are still looking for some way to solve it satisfactorily. We do not claim that our solution is universally satisfactory, but it is satisfactory for our purposes.

Everything edible that comes on the premises is destined to be ingested eventually by a minimmu of 4[illegible] mouths. This solves the problem of leftovers; there aren't any. What four people won't eat, which is negligible, will be eaten by one or more of two dogs, two cats and three geese. What they won't eat will be examined at least and possibly eaten by one or more of 30 sheep.

If there still is something left over, such as an orange peel, it will be eaten by one or more of the furred and feathered scavengers in the neighborhood.

Not only is there no problem of leftovers any more: there is no problem of garbage either. The only net residue is the inevitable smattering of tin cans and glass containers.

There is almost no use for a refrigerator and no use at all for the garbage pail, that backyard symbol of America's more abundant life.

And speaking of refrigerators, which created the leftover problem in the first place (there was no problem when there was no way to keep dibs and dabs for posterity) we predict they will be eliminated in 20 years by freezers.

Eventually, freezers will be designed with a relatively high-temperature compartment for keeping milk and commodities which cannot be frozen or which are going to be used right away. The refrigerator, with its low-temperature compartment for keeping things which need be frozen or are not going to be used right away, will be of such limited usefulness most people won't want them sitting around.

In the meantime, the refrigerator at our house will be used for nothing but storing milk, unused portions of canned fruit, cheese, oleo and bacon flitches, with an occasional ham or a turkey. There are no leftovers to fill its empty shelves.

Marion County History Brevities

By EDNA S. DUTTON

Dr. Daniel B. Cliffe, veterinarian, was a resident of Scott Town, now known as Meeker. A native of Ashland County where he was born March 6, 1859, he was the second among a family of 12 children. He began to earn his own living at an age when most boys were attending school. His fondness for horses led him to make a study of them and when only 11 years of age, he began to ride race horses. An expert in the management of horses, he was employed during the summer months at the tracks, and at the age of 18 began to drive trotting and pacing horses, soon establishing a wide reputation as a driver and trainer.

A Land With Open Doors

In a world climate which has practically every country guarding its frontiers, it is refreshing to be reminded anew that Australia once more has laid out the welcome mat for virtually all newcomers.

Last year, Australia asked for 80,000 new emigrants and got 73,000. For the year ending next June, 100,000 are wanted. During the last six years of open arms to new settlers, the down-under continent has added 340,000 workers and rightly considers these as assets.

It is true that most European and Asiatic countries already have so many people difficult to assimilate that wholesale additions would intensify employment, wage, education and absorption problems. Yet it also is true that a great many countries could allow to come in every year many more persons than current quotas allow without any real dangers.

Australia, with plenty of land and natural resources remindful of America in the colonial era, also has a gigantic development job. Large hydro-electric enterprises employ skilled workers of a score or more of nationalities. Of the country's technical and professional experts, 70 per cent are emigrants. Last year alone, newcomers are said to have contributed about $900 million to Australia's national income.

On the other side of the world, the small, new and brave country of Israel also welcomes emigrants, albeit offering more sentimental dedication than material resources. Israel needs and wants workers to establish the new nation — technicians, professional persons, farmers and all others who can find vast satisfaction in an idealistic enterprise whatever the sacrifice.

Probably the bulk of Australia's emigrants are moved by more selfish desires, concerned only secondarily in making Australia a great nation, but these are natural and realistic expectations.

Aged saints are apt to be weary of this life and restless. They are not so useless as they imagine. They can at least exemplify patience and faith. They desire a better country, that is heavenly.—He. 11:16.

Shall We Dance?

Guy Lombardo now has a TV hour, and in a big New York hotel guests are shown dining and dancing in a trend of night life spreading so fast you can't get the wife to go to dinner without assurances about the photography and network.

"Let's dine out tonight," you say. "What's the camera arrangement?" she asks, adding, "The last time you took me out I had to endure PRIVACY!"

"It won't happen again," you promise. "I've double-checked this time and we'll eat, drink and dance over one of the best channels."

Even then she will pitch in with a warning, "Very well, but if I ever find you've taken the where I can't wave into the camera over the soup and smile at the unseen audience in mid-rhumba, I'm through."

We have been watching the Lombardo program and never realized how camera-conscious people could get.

There are couples who come to a dead halt when directly in front of the camera and stall all traffic until shoved away by a split-wing formation. Enter the latest restaurant character: The roadhog of the TV lanes.

If you see a fellow waltz his partner quickly out of TV range you can make up your mind he is either a Lothario on the loose or a fellow who thinks the $5,000 reward pictures of him on the Post Office walls are enough.

TV is going to have a terrific influence whenever the stern question of "Where did you say you were last night, George?" is asked by a wife with a video set.

We can hear hundreds of homes ringing with the cries, "At the office, eh! How long since they had saxophones, snare drums, cymbals, clarinets and fiddles at big business conference! And who was that woman I saw in your discussion of the economic situation?"

Life gets more complex by the hour. (Shall we dance, Myrtle? Or did you tell somebody you were at the Women's League for Civic Betterment?)

Willie bought a lively stock,

And every time the prices changed
He fluctuated too.
He watched the stock he hoped to own
Go down, or hit a peak;
And thought they might close very strong,
Our Willie would close weak.

Forty-six-thousand dollars in cash was found in an auto wrecked on the way to Florida. That's not too much to carry if you want a waterfront room.

Coffee is so high we heard of a fellow who took the old cup in for a trade allowance on a new one.

During the auto show at the Waldorf-Astoria, where scores of magnificent cars were on display, the height of service was demanded, we hear, from a guest in the towers who asked for room service and said, "Send me up one of those gold sedans."

We are still trying to figure out Ernest Hemingway's appearance, after those two crashes, carrying a bottle of gin and a bunch of bananas. We can realize a gin company asking his indorsement, but we can't see a banana grower getting into the act.

David Sarnoff has demonstrated an atomic battery which produces an electric current. (This may be the prelude to the atomic icebox and the nuclear boudoir light.)

The French ballet star "Jeanmaire" will be the talk of New York after "Pink Tights" opening, regardless of what the critics say about the show. She has a birdlike beauty, fragile but pretty exquisite.

Sen. Morse Scores Tax Rebates Given To Oil Companies

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Oregon's independent Sen. Wayne Morse made it clear last night he stood solidly against the depletion allowance granted oil companies for tax purposes and contended oil companies bribed politicians with large political contributions.

He explained the oil firms are allowed to deduct 27½ per cent from oil properties before figuring the income tax due. Congress has argued many times whether or not the depletion allowance should be continued.

"I know the oil industry has made rather large campaign contributions," Morse said, "but I don't see why the people should have to pay for their bribes."

He spoke at a news conference preceding an address before the Oklahoma City chapter of Americans for Democratic Action.

1870 Coffee Price Caused No Alarm Among Housewives

The price of coffee didn't have housewives in a tizzy back in the so-called "good old days." In those days the makins' of a good cup of coffee was to be had for a mere whistle, according to prices recorded in the "book" of Gracely, Schoenlaub and Dietsch, Marion grocers.

In 1870 customers paid eight cents a pound for green coffee and 11 cents a pound for roasted berries. Green coffee, according to those who remember, was coffee roasted by the customer to her own liking and the 11-cent brand was custom done.

The Gracely, Schoenlaub and Dietsch grocery was located at the corner of Main and Church Sts. in what was the old Cummins block, later occupied by the People's Store and also the J. C. Markert Store

An old ledger kept by the store to register the purchases of customers who preferred to "charge it" disclosed the prices. The ledger belongs to Dr. F. A. Stengel and is one of his many items dealing with the life of Marion in those early days.

Molotov Proposal By George Sokolsky

SOKOLSKY

The Molotov Proposal to divide the world among five powers really means a line of demarcation between the United States and Soviet Russia. It is a revival of the Molotov-Ribbentrop pact which was the basis of the Stalin-Hitler alliance.

The Molotov-Ribbentrop pact was the immediate cause of World War II, for when its principles were applied to Poland, Great Britain accepted the gauge of war with American support. At both Teheran and Yalta, this same concept was revived, Great Britain being included but not too importantly.

The United States rejected this concept of peace by demarcation and proposed the United Nations as a substitute.

Yet even in the United Nations, matters of basic principle are the province of the five permanent members of the Security Council, the United States, Soviet Russia, Great Britain, France and China, each of whom enjoys the right of an absolute veto.

-:-

THE PRACTICAL elimination of China and the weakness of France have given to the United States and Soviet Russia a predominance over the United Nations Security Council not anticipated at the San Francisco conference.

The so-called smaller countries are not so small; they are only weak. The Moslem states could generate a power which could challenge Soviet Russia; the Latin American countries, if ever they united, could build an enormous power.

The Molotov resurrection at Berlin of the Molotov-Ribbentrop pact would preclude that. The River Elbe would be a dividing line in Europe; the southern boundary of China in Eastern Asia and the 38th Parallel in Western Asia.

The United States would dominate the American continents and Western Europe; Russia would dominate Eastern Europe and Northern and Eastern Asia.

The rest of the world they would divide between them, permitting such countries as Great Britain and France to believe that they possessed power but not permitting them to exercise it.

-:-

RIBBENTROP sold this idea to Hitler, who fell into the trap and wrecked his state and himself.

John Foster Dulles has already rejected it for the United States, as he had to because no American could accept the cynical immorality of such a line of demarcation.

The puzzle is: why did Molotov propose it? Perhaps it was psychological: having once sold these wares to Ribbentrop, he believes that they are satisfactory wares. Or, perhaps the Russians are weary of the United Nations and want to kill it. Or maybe Molotov was just having fun.

Molotov is not known to be a humorist or even humorous. His is a dour personality. So it is possible that Malenkov, who is utterly ignorant of the American mind, cooked this one up and assumed that Americans would like it because it would give the United States parcels of the Earth's surface and masses of population to which we are not entitled.

MALENKOV would therefore do well to come here and see how a free people lives and works and does not fear. I pick a paragraph from an address delivered by Sen. William E. Jenner as an example of what both Molotov and Malenkov need to understand:

"We Americans have not lived for centuries free from governmental compulsion merely because we had ballot boxes. The most ruthless dictatorships of Europe made much of ballot boxes.

Americans were able to keep themselves free of government direction because they lived by a creed of self-direction.

Americans were their own managers, their own directors, their own commanders, their own planners."

This is a correct view of the American mind and the American personality. And such people do not wish to own other people. If only that could be understood by the Russians, it might be possible to come to some terms.

-:-

FOR INSTANCE, while Soviet Russia owns East Germany absolutely, the United States does not own West Germany at all; while the Soviet Empire owns North Korea, the United States does not own South Korea, as Syngman Rhee has proved by his conduct.

While Communist China is part of the Soviet Universal State, Nationalist China, existing on tiny Formosa, is not part of the United States. While Guatemala is dominated by the Kremlin, no country in Latin America is dominated by the White House.

It is possible to detail this difference in a thousand instances. The Russians might find a formula for permanent peace with us in it.

U.S. Attorneys Oppose Bail in Hupman Case

CINCINNATI (AP) — Government attorneys will file today with the Sixth Circuit Court of Appeals a memorandum outlining why the United States does not want E. Melvin Hupman of Dayton, released on bail.

Hupman, convicted of swearing falsely he was not a Communist when he signed an affidavit as an officer of a labor union, asked the court yesterday to free him from jail pending his court appeal.

Federal District Judge John H. Druffel denied Hupman bond when he was convicted by a Jury Jan. 15. He was sentenced to five years in prison and fined $5,000. He has been in the Hamilton County jail.

Defense Atty. Marshall Perlin told the court, "The mere fact a man was or has been a member of the Communist party cannot be grounds for a denial of bail." He said bail was the man's right under the Constitution.

Thomas Stueve, assistant U.S. district attorney, said there was no evidence Hupman would leave the court's jurisdiction of his own will.

"We have reason to believe that through the efforts of his friends and supporters he is very likely to leave the jurisdiction," Stueve said.

The defense attorneys will answer the government's memorandum tomorrow. The appeals court will make its decision later.

Around Council's Table

Two pieces of legislation were unanimously adopted and other items of business were discussed by Marion City Council at an adjourned meeting held Monday night at City Hall.

Both pieces of legislation adopted concerned preparations of specifications, advertisement for bids, and signing of contracts for equipment for the new General Hospital.

First of these authorized the board of hospital commissioners to purchase the necessary equipment for the hospital.

The second authorized the board to employ a typist to assist it in preparation of the specifications, advertising for bids, and contracts for this equipment.

He is to be paid $2 for each page of specifications not to exceed 100 copies each. Total cost of this is not expected to exceed $200.

Richard E. Lister, councilman-at-large, requested that legislation providing for purchase of the equipment be expanded to include furnishings. He said he made this request because he was informed commitments had been made to purchase furnishings for the new hospital in Columbus rather than from Marion stores

City Solicitor George Piacentino said such commitments cannot be made because any purchases of equipment or furnishing amounting to more than $1,000 would have to be from the "lowest and best bidder.

Traffic Discussion

Progress of plans to inaugurate operation of an impounding garage was discussed briefly after Robert G. Haldeman, councilman-at-large, asked if Short-Ford, Inc. plans to sign a contract with the city. City Solicitor George Piacentino said talks on signing a contract for the towing and impounding of illegally parked or wrecked cars had bogged down because of an insurance problem. He said the insurance company Short-Ford contacted said it could write no policy which would fully protect the city from liability for towed cars. Present discussions are on the possibility of obtaining such insurance, he said.

The parking ban on Church St. from 3 to 6 p.m. daily was brought up by Harold Fralich. He said he feels council should have dropped the ban three months ago because the city's apparent inability to enforce it "is making a laughing stock of council."

Ralph E. Williams, fourth ward, reported his streets and alleys committee is studying the Church St. problem and will meet with other city officials to discuss it as soon as possible and will report its findings to council later.

School Street Problem

The question of paving strips of land between Mandana and Seminole Aves. and parking areas around the new Harding High School was brought up by Don Quaintance, fifth ward.

Piacentino reported that no action has been taken on this matter recently.

The city board of education previously requested council to pave the areas which are located on city owned property between the curb lines of the two streets and the property line of the school Council balked at this proposal and questioned if the city owned the land. Piacentino said the city definitely owns the land.

At Monday night's meeting Quaintance said he felt something should be done about paving the areas because they are now "mudholes" and detract from the beauty of the school building. He suggested the possibility the city and the school board share the cost of the paving project ona 50-50 basis. Piacentino said he felt this could be done.

The matter was referred to the streets and alleys and utilities committees for further study

All councilmen were present for the meeting.

Junior Shearing School Slated To Open at Upper

UPPER SANDUSKY — A two-day sheep shearing school for juniors will be held Wednesday and Thursday at the Upper Sandusky High School farm shop.

Teachers will be Walt Welsh of Richwood, president of the Ohio Sheep Shearers Association, and Ralph H. Grimshaw, extension sheep specialist of Ohio State University.

Sponsored by the Wyandot County Sheep Improvement Association, the school is designed to instruct young flock owners, 16 to 21 years old, in the fundamental procedures of shearing. Twenty students for the first shearing school were selected from a large list of applicants by the association committee in charge.

Neil House Purchased For Church Investment

CHICAGO (AP)—A spokesman for Auxiliary Bishop Bernard J. Sheil of Chicago says the bishop purchased the 700-room Neil House Hotel in Columbus, Ohio, for St. Andrew's Church here.

Sale of the hotel, second largest in Columbus, for more than five million dollars was announced during the weekend by Harry L. Ludwig, majority shareholder.

Toledo Judge Upholds Ouster Of Racing Firm

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Ouster of the Fort Miami Raceways, Inc., from its lease on the Lucas County Fairgrounds horse racing facilities was upheld today by Common Pleas Judge John Q. Carey.

The decision paves the way for the Lucas County Agricultural Society to enter a new lease immediately in an effort to bring horse racing back to the Toledo area.

A 49-page opinion by Judge Carey concluded the Fort Miami raceways corporation had breached the lease and rendered it void by permitting the Toledo Jockey Club, Inc. to conduct horse races in the spring of 1953 and by subletting part of the premises to the Ohio Sportsservice, Inc., which admittedly sold alcoholic beverages at the fairgrounds during 1952 and 1953 race meets in violation of Ohio law.

Cool War By Victor Riesel

RIESEL

PHILLIPSBURG, PA. Adventurous ex-GIs who are not trigger - happy can get themselves jobs in a tiny private army in Central Pennsylvania. After being screened they'll wind up in the private army's reserve now being raised by mine owners who are a little weary and considerably indignant over a three-year series of midnight bombings which have cost them about $500,000.

Ever since 1950 the dynamite has blown at midnight. The local folk, on a line from just this side of State College clear through to the Ohio border, have been shaken from their beds by 30 blastings. Shrapnel has swished across the highways, imbedding itself in houses and trees some distance from the explosion.

In the past three months, four mine tipples have gone sky - high. Before then, big shovels which pull the coal off the earth in strip-mining were blown to pieces. Expensive blasting, this, since some of these scoopers retail at $30,000 apiece.

Not too long ago there were four blasts within a few hours. Some of the explosions sounded off in the western part of the state. Then quiet. Then boom — fifty miles east.

ANGER MATCHED terror in the communities surrounding the 40-million-dollar-a-year strip mining industry, which now produces 17,000,000 tons, or one - fifth of Pennsylvania's famous soft coal. And the coal is dug up — or rather stripped off the earth — by non-union miners who have been defying John Lewis' organizers for years.

No one knows who has been throwing the dynamite. There is little evidence to link the blasts to anyone — although the operators will tell you privately whom they suspect. So there have been no arrests. But with four bombings in three months, the operators thought they had had enough.

They advertised in the local papers for "able - bodied young men of training and character" and invited them "to apply for guard and patrol duty." There have been applicants. Each has been screened — and put into a reserve now totalling 25 men who can match muscle for muscle. And gun for gun too, for that matter.

The men will be armed and deputized — wherever possible. And even where deputization isn't possible they'll go on patrol.

THESE RECRUITING advertisements have been coupled with notices of rewards of $15,000 offered for information leading to the detection of those responsible for "any blasting or destruction by fire of any heavy equipment or structures used in the mining, loading and preparation of coal and belonging to or operated by any member of the Central Pennsylvania Open Pit Mining Association" of this town.

But neither parol nor reward kept the dynamiters from moving in again. Sometime during the night of Saturday, Jan. 23, somebody tied a box of eight - inch dynamite sticks to a big coal shovel over at Avella, in Washington County. That blast cost the owner at least $12,000, I've been told.

The quiet of these coal towns is deceiving. It's only skin deep. Beneath the surface there is pent up anger. I was frankly told that the small army being raised will be used not only to defend property, but to head off any "invasion of mass pickets" in swift auto caravans.

It may be much rougher as the "incidents" mount. If it does, we may see coal field history repeat itself in actual, though miniature, bloody field warfare.

THESE COAL WARS, which have slipped away from general notice, may shoot right back into the public eye.

Central Pennsylvania is just one of the fronts in this conflict. Until Dec. 28 there was similar war over in Widen, W. Va. There, for more than a year, men were shot. One non - union coaldigger was killed; a mine power sub - station was blown up; Company guards sat in hillside pillboxes and two railroad bridges went the way of the Pennsylvania tipples and shovels—dynamited.

Men were indicted for murder. Twenty three others are up for trial in he Federal Court House in Charleston, W. Va. They are charged with violating the civil rights of others.

The trial will be watched by many in Washington and many more in such areas as this — for they believe that mass conviction may touch off new violence in the already tense coalfields.

Clean Desk Fiends By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—A wife at housecleaning time knows no such agony as an untidy man forced to clean off his office desk.

To him throwing away the paper mountain he has come to love, layer by layer, is pure torture. It is like peeling away his heart.

HAL BOYLE

I am in the process of cleaning off my desk right now. And if cleanliness is next to godliness, I'll soon be a neighbor to heaven.

Already I can see patches of the top of my desk (a horrible dull green), after tossing away 75 pounds of unanswerable letters, unread books and pamphlets, soiled socks, used coffee cartons, small pieces of string and lumps of sugar.

BUT WHO WANTS to see the top of his desk anyway? You can't play billiards on it. If you lie down on it to take a nap, you either get a stiff neck or the boss jumps to the conclusion you are loafing on the job.

All you can do with a clean desk top is put a small sign saying "think" on it . . and look at it and brood. If the desk is littered, you can paw into one of the paper gullies and find plenty to think about. But a bare desk offers no help to a bare brain.

A wife who shines up her house is at least rewarded by the comment of guests, "My, how lovely everything looks." But nobody walks into a business office and says, "I just adore the way you keep the top of your desk. It has such a mellow old gangrene patina What kind of polish do you use on it?"

THERE IS A LEGEND that a clean desk reflects a clear mind. This is merely a fable to console the unimaginative. It is like saying a gentleman with neatly creased trousers can outpunch a guy in baggy pants.

It would be more nearly truthful to say the man with a littered desk recognizes and enjoys the normal confusion of daily living, whereas the man who can't work except at a clean desk if more likely to be a victim of straitjacket thinking and tries to put life's chaotic problems into pigeonholes. But pigeonholes are neither for people nor their problems — they're for pigeons.

Men with littered desks are quite tolerant of men with clean desks and merely feel sorry for their inefficiency. Your clean-desk man is always looking for an important paper lost in the files or carelessly tossed away in last month's waste-paper basket.

BUT YOUR LITTERED-desk man merely closes his eyes, inserts a hand within the debris before him — and pulls out exactly what he wants. He never is at a loss because he saves everything, operating on the sound belief that you never know what is really important in his life until you need it. That is why he never throws anything away.

"But psychiatrists say his shows a terrible sense of insecurity," a friend of mine objected.

"Well, if your clean desk is a sign you feel secure," I told him, "perhaps you ought to see a psychiarist. Don't you really think anybody who feels secure in a mad world ought to have his head examined now and then?"

Perhaps you are wondering why, since I love to keep my desk like a magpie's nest, I am bothering to clear it up at all. Frankly, I was forced into it—by a threat of legal action.

On the wall two feet above my desk I keep a sign that says, "order is haven's first law." Generally, when my desk rubble gets level with the sign I weed it down a bit. This is to keep the telephone from rising out of my reach.

—:—

I HADNT DONE much weeding lately, and the other day the whole mass toppled over and caught our drama critic like a sitting duck He was pulled out safely, shaken but unhurt except for a slight bruise where he had been hit by a book called, "Will Coolidge Run Again?" I've been intending to read that book for some time.

The drama critic took the accident in good grace. But all the clean - desk fiends in the office seized it as a golden opportunity.

"If you don't clean off that desk," they said grimly, "we'll haul you into court for maintaining a fire hazard and a menace to public safety."

They weren't kidding. So what can you do?

But if I had my way, I'd let that clutter on my desk grow higher and higher, and be buried in it after my death under a headstone saying:

"Entombed beneath his own debris, here lies a happy knave. "Who enjoyed a heap o' living as he made his desk a grave."
